VIOLENT DEATH TAKES 3 IN COUNTY

Strikes Ordered in All Chrysler Plants

REJECTION OF BARGAINING PLEA CAUSE

Hudson, Packard Also Affected by Action Of 'Sit-Downers'

DETROIT. (AP) — Richard T. Frankensteen, organizational director of the United Automobile Workers of America, announced this afternoon that strikes had been called in all major units of the Chrysler Corp. in Detroit.

The announcement climaxed a day of rapid-fire developments which included strikes in the Chevrolet Motor Co. plant at Flint, and the Hudson Motor Car Co. and the Packard Motor Car Co. in Detroit, and the refusal of Chrysler Corp. officials to recognize the U. A. W. A. as sole collective bargaining agency in its plants.

Many Plants Affected

Affected by the Chrysler strike were the Plymouth, DeSoto, Dodge and Chrysler plants.

The main Chrysler plant in Highland Park, scene of negotiations between the union and the corporation, still was operating at 2:10 p. m., but a company official said he understood a strike was to become effective there soon.

The Chrysler corporation employs approximately 67,000 persons, of whom 59,000 work in nine Detroit plants.

Its factories here are the Chrysler Highland Park plant, which covers 53 acres; the Chrysler Jefferson Avenue plant; the Chrysler Kercheval plant; the Dodge Bros. plant, the Plymouth plant, the Dodge forge plant, the De Sota plant, the Dodge truck plant and the Chrysler motor parts plant.

Outside of Detroit, Chrysler plants are located in Marysville, Mich., Windsor, Ont., Newcastle, Ind., Evansville, Ind., Los Angeles and Helena, Ont.

Chevrolet Strike Ends

Chrysler's refusal to recognize the U.A.W.A. as sole bargaining agency was announced shortly after a new mass sit-down strike affecting from 5,000 to 9,000 employes closed several departments of the Hudson Motor Car Company. Among union demands was one for a blanket increase in wages.

Four plants of the Chevrolet Motor Company at Flint, Mich., were closed by another dispute involving union and non-union workers relations, but Robert Travis, United Automobile Workers organizer, announced this afternoon the settlement of the Chevrolet strike. He said the men would return to work pending the completion of negotiations with company officials.

STEEL LABOR IN 3-WAY FIGHT

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—Three separate labor units concentrated their efforts today on holding leadership of Carnegie - Illinois Steel Corporation's 120,000 workers, all of whom have been assured of a 10 cents an hour pay increase and a 40-hour work week.

John L. Lewis' steel workers' organizing committee set the pace in the three-corner struggle. Its representatives will meet with company officials Wednesday to negotiate wage adjustments and schedules for skilled and semi-skilled steel labor.

The Pittsburgh district employe representatives' council, which has protested the company's recognition of the Lewis union and changed its name to the "American Union of Steel Workers," climaxed a series of conferences Saturday night by obtaining the company's agreement to the 10 cents an hour pay rise.

Assassin Ambushes Buron Fitts

Killed by Dentist

Cleo Sprouse, 18-year-old, Charlottesville, Va., high school girl was found dead near the University cemetery. Investigation brought a confession from Dr. R. G. Miller, 53-year-old dentist, that the girl died of chloroform while he was preparing to perform an illegal operation upon her. He was charged with murder. (Associated Press Photo)

HUMAN 'TUGS' SAVE BOAT

Lifeguards Tow Fishing Craft to Safety at Huntington Beach

Three Huntington Beach life guards were hailed as heroes today, and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Garrett of San Pedro are still in possession of their fishing boat, following a thrilling sea rescue yesterday afternoon at the beach city in which life guards acted as tug boats.

Chief Lifeguard Bud Higgins and Guards Nolan Hasson and Bob Hilton, acting as "human tugboats," saved Garrett's fishing craft from crashing into the Huntington Beach pier, and later from going aground, as the boat drifted aimlessly, with a disabled motor and lost rudder.

The trio attached a rope to the boat and, swimming "full speed ahead," towed it away from the pier as the craft threatened to dash itself to pieces. Later the boat broke away and was in danger of going aground in the surf when the guards again towed it to safety. Finally the craft was anchored, until a Coast Guard speedboat, dispatched from San Pedro, could tow it to the base there.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrett had been spending a holiday at Newport harbor aboard their boat and were en route to San Pedro when the trouble developed.

Striker Protest Parade Canceled

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Spokesmen of the United Automobile Workers, who are picketing the Douglas aircraft plant, announced today a scheduled parade protesting the asserted refusal of the state relief administration to place Douglas strikers on relief has been called off.

The original plan called for several hundred automobiles to move from Santa Monica to SRA headquarters in downtown Los Angeles. Instead, a committee of 50 strikers will call on the SRA to present the complaint.

UPPER RIVER WATER PLAN HITS SNAG

Orange County Solons Fight Granting of Spreading Fund

State legislators from Orange county were on the warpath today to protect its water.

They have pledged themselves to fight assembly bill 272, which would grant an appropriation by the state of $800,000 to San Bernardino county for water spreading purposes.

Alarmed at the possibility of increased water spreading operations in the upper reaches of the Santa Ana river, officers of the Orange County Water district had appealed to the state legislators to oppose the measure.

Swing To Help

For many years Orange county water interests have fought the water spreading operations in the upper counties. Seeking to halt the practice and protect Orange county's rights, James Irvine filed suit to stop the water spreading unless Orange county was granted its fair share of the river flow.

Not only will Orange county's three state legislators oppose the new plan to further spread water, but Senator Swing from San Bernardino county will help Orange county defeat the measure.

A letter received today from Sen. Harry C. Westover, concerning the measure, said, "I have discussed the matter with Assemblymen Watson and Kuchel and I am sure the Orange county delegation will oppose the measure in committee and upon the floor of the assembly and senate.

Plans Early Action

"It is our hope that this bill may be killed in committee. The bill was introduced by Assemblyman Andreas of San Bernardino county. It is my impression that Assemblyman Andreas had not adequately discussed the measure before the bill was introduced.

"I talked to Senator Swing yesterday in regard to the matter and I am rather confident that when the matter appears before the senate that Senator Swing will also be against the measure. Senator Swing tells me that at all times he has attempted to work in harmony with Orange and Riverside counties and will be against any measure which will disrupt the harmonious feeling which has existed in the past between the three counties. Senator Swing feels that Assembly Bill No. 272 wall ill-advised."

JAPAN TO 'LAY OFF' CHINA

TOKYO. (AP)—Japan disavowed any intention of territorial aggression in China today and pledged herself to a new policy built on a keystone of "equality" in dealing with her great continental neighbor.

Foreign Minister Naotake Sato launched Japan on the "new deal" for China to the cheers of a parliament stirred by his announcement.

Japan, he declared in a maiden speech on his policy, must abandon her superiority complex in order ever to readjust her long-strained relations with China.

"Japan respects Chinese interests and wishes to shake hands with them economically," he declared. "That is the only way Japan can expand there."

Mrs. Simpson Deserts Cannes

CANNES, France. (AP)—Wallis Warfield Simpson, accompanied by her host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Rogers, left Cannes today for what was reported reliably to be a two-months' visit to Tours, in eastern central France.

Roulette at Balboa? Scribe Takes a Whirl and Ends Up With Fresh Shrimp for Loot

By BOB GUILD

Say, Boss:

Pursuant to your instructions for yesterday afternoon, I went to Balboa and Newport.

Mr. Bradshaw, this is a very sad story I have to tell.

In the first place I was unable to find any evidence of anyone dusting off any roulette wheels in preparation for an early spring opening.

"Admiral" Gaines (You know County Editor Brick Gaines), and I groped our way through a most unexpected fog until we reached Balboa. We couldn't find anyone.

We thought Secretary Harry Welch at the chamber of commerce would know if such a thing were true, so we called on Harry. He had gone to Los Angeles, but his secretary was willing to give us some pictures of (a) fish, (b) bathing beauties, and (c) yachts.

So then we went in to see Realtor Jack Twist, next door.

"More and more people," said Realtor Twist, "will be bringing their families to Greater Balboa this summer."

While that was conclusive it had little to do with your instructions, so Admiral Gaines and I went on

BAR TO VOTE ON COURTS

Will Express Views on Proposal to Merge Local Tribunals

A proposal to reduce the number of justice courts in Orange county from 11 to two was made known today in the latest of a series of moves for consolidation of governmental functions.

Orange County Bar association will discuss the justice court matter at its meeting next Friday at 6:30 p. m. in the Green Cate cafe here, George A. Parker, secretary, announced.

A sub-committee of the bar association studied the proposal of having only two judicial townships, one on each side of the Santa Ana river, but arrived at no decision.

Instead, questionnaires were sent to all attorneys in the county. Results of the poll will be announced at the meeting.

The meeting has been called to consider the proposal of President Roosevelt to add six justices to the supreme court.

"The board of governors of the state bar and the executive committee of the conference of bar association delegates have asked that action on this matter be taken by all local bar associations," Parker announced.

RESUME BATTLE OVER ESTATE

Heirs to the $2,500,000 estate left by Fannie Bixby Spencer, member of the famous Bixby family of Long Beach, are expected to stage a fierce battle in Presiding Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court here tomorrow.

As executors prepared to ask for sale of 2100 shares of the Jotham Bixby company stock at private sale, Elizabeth Irving Bixby and Lillian Odisho Bajon, two of the heirs, filed objections in which they alleged that they are victims of a conspiracy.

Sale of the stock is not necessary and will mean a loss of $500,000 to the estate, they charged.

Further, they charged, settlement of the estate is being held up in order to satisfy minor bequests amounting to $50,000.

BRITISH SHIP BOMBARDED

Destroyers Stand By to Help Burning, Sinking Vessel

BORDEAUX, France, (AP)—Four British destroyers were reported by a burning, sinking British merchantman 90 miles out in the Bay of Biscay today after the ship had reported she was bombarded by a "vessel of unknown nationality."

A series of desperate S O S calls sent a fleet of French fishing boats and tugs dashing to the scene, apparently in the regular ship lane between the mouth of the Gironde and Cape Ortegal.

The name of the stricken ship variously was received as the "Adda," a vessel of more than 7000 tons, or the "Ada," a much smaller ship.

She replied: "Bombarded by vessel of unknown nationality"—on fire—sinking slowly by bows."

The destroyers were preparing to try to take off passengers, late advices stated. Four French fishing boats also were reported virtually in the ship's position and authorities rushed a French destroyer from Rochefort to the scene.

BEGIN HEARING ON RELIEF

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—What may develop into a widespread investigatoin of relief administration by every state agency was started here today by the assembly social security committee with State Relief Administrator Harold Pomeroy and State Director of Social Welfare Florence Turner summoned to be heard.

Headed by Assemblyman Lore, Los Angeles, the committee is going into charges by Los Angeles County Supervisor Herbert C. Legg that 2000 persons were wiped off relief rolls there by Pomeroy's order March 1 without opportunity being given to arrange for their care by other agencies.

This threw the burden on Los Angeles county, Lore said, and the financial condition of the county is such that in order to provide for their care it must secure loans either from the state or federal governments.

U. S. Entertainers Get Cold Welcome

LONDON. (AP)—American entertainers were given a cold welcome today for the coronation of King George VI.

Looking forward to top billings around May 12, the British Variety Artists Federation protested to the ministry of labor against the importation of foreign competition—particularly American.

SHOOTS L. A. PROSECUTOR IN ARM

Job Done By 'Amateur,' Say Officers; Think Strikers to Blame

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—District Attorney Buron Fitts from his hospital bed today took command of the search for an assailant who wounded him in the arm from ambush last night.

He held a conference at dawn with his first assistants and with Clyde I. Plummer, his chief investigator.

Physicians said it might be several days before the full effect is known of the bullet that caromed off his left elbow and ploughed through his forearm muscles as the 42-year-old, Texas-born prosecutor drove from his ranch to his father's home in suburban Monrovia.

Warned By Police

"Mr. Fitts has recalled an incident in connection with the shooting that may be important in our search for his assailants," said Assistant Chief Deputy Edwin Myers after the bedside conference.

In Santa Monica, Chief of Police Charles Dice said he warned Fitts to be careful.

"I received a telephone call from a man yesterday who said 'it would be much better for you to lay off the Douglas plant strikers,' and then hung up," said Chief Dice.

Advised To Be Careful

"I telephoned Fitts yesterday afternoon and told him of the threats. I also suggested that he be careful, for many of the strik-

DEATH STRIKES 3 STRANGELY

WASHINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Death struck three times, claiming an 18-year-old wife, her unborn child and her attending physician, just as she was about to give birth to the child, her first, in a farm home near Shoals today.

Dr. E. E. Long of Shoals, called to assist Dr. Charles F. Hope in the delivery of Mrs. Roy Boyd's baby, said Dr. Hope and Mrs. Boyd died of heart attacks at about the same time.

"The child could not be born without the aid of forceps," Dr. Long said, "and we were attempting to change the position of the baby when Dr. Hope fell to the floor. I ran around the bed to him immediately. He was dead. I returned to the patient only to find that she, too, had died, and with her the unborn infant."

Nevada May Cut Divorcing Time

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—Resident requirements for filing divorse suits in Nevada would be reduced from six weeks to 30 days under terms of a bill prepared today by Assemblyman Julian Thurston of Pioche for introduction in the state legislature.

The measure has the backing of some Reno lawyers and assertedly is designed to meet the threatened competition from Idaho for Nevada's divorce "business." Idaho recently adopted a six-weeks residence law.

Name New Relief Commission Head

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—George B. Young, Los Angeles, became chairman of the unemployment relief commission today through appointment by Governor Merriam.

Young, a retired business man, has been carrying on the work the last several months since the resignation of Judge Francis Carr of Redding.

Shot by Assassin

District Attorney Buron Fitts of Los Angeles county was in a hospital today recovering from a bullet wound in his left arm inflicted by an assassin who ambushed him last night as he was leaving his home in his automobile to visit his parents.

CITE 37 FOR BAD DRIVING

Law Prohibiting Minors From Driving Will Be Enforced Rigidly

Santa Ana's drive for traffic safety continued today with the issuing of 37 citations over the week-end, and arrest of three on drunk driving charges.

Police issued 22 citations to speeders, 10 to drivers who ignored boulevard stops. They also issued 23 parking tickets Saturday.

Chief of Police Floyd Howard announced today that his department would declare war on violators of two sections of the vehicle code which previously had been overlooked to considerable extent. Both deal with minors driving cars.

The first, section 250A, makes it a misdemeanor for a minor to drive a car without a license. The second, section 333, makes it a misdemeanor on the part of the minor's parents or guardians to allow him to drive without a license.

All cases of violation of these two sections will be prosecuted rigorously, Chief Howard says, in addition to the customary prosecution for infraction of traffic and safety rules.

The three arrested for drunk driving were Carlos Martinez, 44, of Los Angeles, arrested at 2 a. m. today when driving on the wrong side of Fourth street. Ignacio Hernandez, 27, of Talbert, arrested at 2 a. m. today when driving in a weaving manner at Fourth and Pacific streets, and Arnold Lindegard, 29, of the Finley hotel, Santa Ana, arrested late Saturday at Fourth and French streets.

AMERICANS ON LINER HURT

GENOA, Italy. (AP)—Two American passengers were injured seriously when the Italian liner Rex was thrown "off balance" last Thursday in mountainous seas near St. Vincent, Azores Islands, the Italian line announced officially today.

At least 15 other Americans suffered less severe injuries, Genoa sources disclosed. Two persons were killed.

Those seriously hurt are Joseph James Crowley of Washington, D. C., who was taken to Ruech hospital in Naples with a broken thigh, and Alfred Sirio, address unstated, taken to the same hospital.

PEDESTRIAN IS KILLED BY AUTO

Boy Drowns at Talbert; S. A. Man Loses Life in Newport Bay

Summer skies and ideal weather brought thousands to beaches and crowded highways with cars yesterday. Death came to two bathers and a pedestrian.

A Santa Ana salesman and an 8-year-old Talbert boy were drowned, and another Santa Ana man was killed when he stepped in front of an automobile. Eight persons were injured in traffic.

DRIVE CAREFULLY—DON'T KILL!

George W. Preston, 48, electrical appliance salesman, 325 South Normandy place, was drowned yesterday afternoon while attempting to swim across Newport bay from the Lido isle bridge.

Race to Rescue

Witnesses said Preston and a Miss LeSeur were racing when Preston suddenly was overcome. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason of Los Angeles went to the rescue in their launch Viking, and lifted the victim to the cruiser Dora Lou, which had also raced from Beecher's boat yard to the scene.

Resuscitation work by the Masons and a pulmotor squad from the Newport fire department and adrenalin administered by a physician proved fruitless. Preston, Miss LeSeur and Robert Sopher of Los Angeles were picnicking under the Lido isle bridge before the tragedy.

Raft Overturns

Louis Luna, 8, was drowned yesterday morning while he and a friend, Paul Gonzales, 9, were playing at a large water hole near Talbert. Gonzales was swimming while Luna remained on a raft. The raft overturned and Luna was drowned. The body was taken to the Brown and Wagner funeral home, where Deputy Coroner J. B. Casteix said no inquest would be held.

Traffic claimed its first fatality of the year in the city of Santa Ana yesterday evening as L. A. Sherman, 55, 305 North Garnsey street, allegedly stepped in front of a car driven by B. M. Parker, 36, Riverside, who was driving south on Flower street.

The impact threw Sherman over the hood of the car and into the windshield. He incurred a broken leg and other injuries, and was pronounced dead at St. Joseph's hospital. An inquest will be con-

OUSTED JUDGE LOSES FIGHT

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Halsted L. Ritter lost in the supreme court today in his attack on validity of senate impeachment proceedings which produced his removal as a federal district judge for the southern district of Florida.

The high court refused to pass upon a judgment against Ritter by the United States court of claims.

Ritter was found guilty last April by the senate of bringing his court "into scandal and disrepute."

Mrs. Josephine Reed Dies in L. A.

Mrs. Joephine S. B. Reed, 81, died yesterday in Los Angeles, where she had recently made her home. For many years she owned and operated the Reed Drapery and Shade shop at 116 North Sycamore street, Santa Ana.

Funeral services will be held at Smith and Tuthill's tomorrow at 2 p. m. with burial in Fairhaven cemetery.

Ceiling Falls on Heaven No. 1

NEW YORK, (AP)—"Peace."

A thousand followers of Father Divine shouted the Harlem Negro's watchword last night in his "Heaven No. 1."

But instead of "peace," part of the ceiling fell on the packed 115th street auditorium, and bedlam broke loose. Everyone, though, including the leader whom the flock of dusky "angels" and "disciples" consider "God," escaped injury.

Why, It's Knobby Walsh!

SECRET 'COP' PLAN TO BE PUSHED

Traffic Safety Group Will Be Named Soon By Council

City council's plans for establishing a traffic safety council are not dead. But it appeared likely today that it would be some time before the 50 special traffic patrolmen would be named.

The Journal learned today that the city council plans to name members of the traffic commission at the regular meeting next Monday night, if proposed members of the commission have been determined upon at that time.

Mayor Fred C. Rowland pointed out today that if the current drive against traffic violators in the city fills the need for safety in driving here, it may not be necessary for some time to name the special patrolmen.

These special patrolmen have been referred to as "secret police" in the past. They would serve without pay in a broad plan to halt violations of traffic laws of the city. The ordinance providing for their appointment goes into effect next week.

ASKS MILITARY ACADEMY HERE

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Represen- Angeles has proposed establish- tative John F. Dockweiler of Los ment of a $4,500,000 military academy in Southern California.

The proposed institutions would operate under the same regulations applicable to the military academy at West Point, N. Y.

Expenditure of $4,500,000 for a site and construction of a plant would be authorized. Dockweiler proposed a similar measure last session.

JAPAN TO RAISE CATS FOR FUR

TOKYO. (AP)—The Japanese government has gone into the cat raising business to provide women with warm but inexpensive fur coats.

Under the direction of Dr. Seinosuke Uchida, fur expert in the department of agriculture, farmers will be taught how to raise cats as a sideline of potato, cabbage and rice growing.

The skins will be processed under government supervision for eventual manufacture of women's fur coats.

Revive Fight Over Property Lines

Eugene Swarzwold and Hallam Cooley today renewed in superior court their eight-year-old battle over the property line dividing their strips of beach at Arch bay, near Laguna Beach.

Once decided by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel in favor of Cooley's contentions, the case was reversed by the state supreme court and sent back for retrial.

Judge Scovel held that the common boundary line extended across a cove in such a way that it cut off much of the beach in front of Swarzwold's land. The high court, however, held that the ruling was based on unreliable evidence as to the original high tide line.

'Hand Off Court' Slips Sent Solons

WASHINGTON. (AP) — Members of congress are receiving thousands of printed slips, bearing in large type "Hands Off the Supreme Court!"

The slips, which are yellow, green and pink, also add this message:

"Dear sir: Believing that the proposal to revise and weaken the United States supreme court would prepare the way for dictatorship in our country, I earnestly urge you to use your influence against the measure. Name———"

THREE KILLED

Thrown 40 Feet

Three persons were thrown out of their car as it overturned west of Dana Point after a collision yesterday afternoon. The accident victims incurred back injuries. A car driven by J. B. Lyon, 37, San Diego, collided with an auto driven by Jack Jeffs, 42, Los Angeles. Jeffs' car overturned, throwing his mother, Mrs. Anna Jeffs, 40 feet into a plowed field. Jeffs and his wife, Helen, 45, were also thrown out and injured. They are under treatment at Santa Ana Valley hospital. California Highway Patrol Officer Lloyd Groover administered first aid as the injured were taken, one by one, to a physician in San Juan Capistrano.

Ernest Black, 24, Laguna Beach, was being treated at the county hospital today for a fractured leg, incurred last night on Verano road southeast of Garden Grove when his motorcycle crashed into a post. Black said his brake rod apparently fell off and his brakes failed to work when he attempted to stop.

Car Hits Truck

Thomas J. Alton, 35, Huntington Beach, was cited for passing another car without sufficient clearance this morning after he was cut about the face in a collision on Chapman avenue, west of the county hospital. His auto collided with a truck driven by David Earl Childs, 41, Riverside, and then overturned.

Mary Lou Rhea, 30, Buena Park, was slightly injured Saturday night when her car collided with an auto driven by Earl Sam Barron, 36, Buena Park, on Grand avenue in that city. Barron had stopped along the highway repairing a broken axle, he told patrol officers.

Lucas Enyart, 22-year-old sailor from the U. S. Kingfisher in San Diego, was treated at the county hospital for a fractured knee and then transferred to the naval hospital in San Diego after an accident Saturday night on Chapman avenue. He told hospital attendants he swerved his car to avoid a collision and crashed into a roadside ditch.

Failed to Stop

Salvador Duarte, 38, Talbert, was arrested on drunk driving charges following a collision yesterday morning between his car and an auto driven by Edward Mark, 26, Pasadena. Mark said he had stopped at a boulevard stop sign when the collision occurred.

Lodema G. Shellhorn, 53, South Pasadena, was cited by patrol officers for failure to observe a boulevard stop Saturday afternoon after her car collided head-on with an auto driven by Niceto Eufenio Martinez, 22, Anaheim, at first street and Harbor boulevard.

Nabor Ocampo, 30, Doheny Park, was cut and bruised last night when cars driven by Manuel Salcido, 36, and Howard Briggs, 47, San Diego, collided west of San Clemente.

Mexican Jailed In Knife Fray

One Mexican was in the county hospital with several knife wounds, and a second was in the county jail facing charges of assault with a deadly weapon today as the result of a Saturday night brawl at Corona Camp.

Ralph Carabajal, 37, was arrested early this moring at his home in La Habra, by sheriff's officers, and was charged with the assault on Julio Garcia, following a drinking party at the Haro cafe.

When arrested Carabajal told officers he "didn't" care if he did go back to the big house, and he hoped he did a good job of the cutting."

Sheriff Logan Jackson was investigating today in an effort to determine if Carabajal has a criminal record.

FITTS

ers blamed him personally for their indictments and arrests."

Fitts directed the issuance of indictments under which nearly 350 men who had gone on a sit-down strike in the Douglas aircraft factory two weeks ago were arrested.

"We intend to question every person who might have a grudge against District Attorney Fitts—we will do everything within our power to find his assailants," said Plummer.

One Shot Fired

"If professional gunmen, resentful against the district attorney because of his campaign against vice, gambling and graft, had been in the black sedan (that crowded close to Fitts' car at the time of the shooting), they would have fired a fusillade of shots, or might have used a machine gun. They would have remained until they finished the job.

"As it was, only one shot, possibly two shots at the most, were fired. The assailants, panic-striken, sped away from the scene."

"The district attorney has withstood the shock of the injury excellently," announced Dr. Ellis Jones after performing an operation in Good Samaritan hospital.

Fitts Tells Attack

"I am hoping the injury will leave no permanent impariment to the arm, but that will be known only after it is determined whether a vital nerve was severed. The bone was not shattered."

Fitts, still under the effects of an anaesthetic, gave a brief statement as he was wheeled from the surgery. He was turning out of his driveway into a public avenue, he said, when he suddenly saw the sedan parked back of a clump of bushes.

"I knew I was in for trouble," he continued. "The ambush car moved along side mine—the running boards almost touching. A man leaned out of the sedan. There was a spurt of fire. A shot! My windshield was shattered and my left arm, which had been resting on the sill of the left front door, dropped helpless at my side.

"Work of Amateurs"

"I am certain two shots were fired. As the black sedan roared away, I got my car in gear and drove to the home of my parents."

Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz declared the shooting "unquestionably is the work of amateurs. No expert machine-gunner or hardened gangster would have bungled the job. The only reason Fitts wasn't killed was because a novice gunman was appointed to 'get' him."

The militant prosecutor, whose eight years in office have seen him convict some of the West's most notorious criminals, staggered up to the house and called: "Mother! I'm shot."

Concern for Daughter

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buff Fitts, and his sister, Mrs. Berthal Gregory, assisted him to a couch and called a physician and sheriff's deputies.

The relatives said Fitts' first concern was for Mary Lou, his adopted 10-year-old daughter, who has been guarded for several months since threats were made against the district attorney.

"Don't let them get Mary Lou!" he was quoted as saying as opiates were administered.

Guards about the Fitts family were increased last week following the sit-down strike at the Douglas aircraft factory. Fitts obtained the indictment of 343 sitdowners on charges of conspiracy to trespass, and yesterday conferred with police on reported molestation of Douglas workers. His office announced that scores of threatening messages had reached him after the indictments were voted at his request.

Alarmed at Dinner

Except for the police conference, Fitts spent a quiet Sunday at his ranch, tendering a dinner party to several friends. Jack Cushman, his personal bodyguard, recalled today that he "didn't like the feel of things" because the Fitts' pet dog growled and leaped at the open window during the meal.

Cushman finally pulled down the living-room shades after reporting he heard footsteps outside the house.

Fitts lauged off suggestions that a guest go with him when he set out for his usual Sunday night call on his father to discuss the ranch management.

LAW BAFFLED IN MATTSON KIDNAPING

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—The kidnap-murder of 10-year-old Charles Mattson appeared today to be definitely headed toward permanent listing among America's great unsolved crimes.

The nation's ace manhunters, stymied completely, apparently had only the hope that the killer may yet make a revealing mistep to spur their hunt.

Of the hundreds of suspects arrested in dozens of cities since the Tacoma boy's body was found 56 days ago, not a single man has been in any way definitely connected with the crime. Not a single additional clew to the slayer's identity has been uncovered.

The federal bureau of investigation still has some of its best agents assigned to the case. No sane motive for the crime has ever been established beyond the attempt to collect $28,000 ransom.

WHEAT MEN ASK INSURANCE

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Representatives of farm organizations in wheat producing states urged a senate committee today to approve crop insurance legislation.

C. C. Talbott of Jamestown, N. D., president of the Farmers Union of North Dakota, testified before an agricultural subcommittee considering the Pope crop insurance bill that at least 98 per cent of the farmers in his state favored enactment of the legislation.

Talbott said, however, he believed a base period of not less than 15 years should be used in comparing average risks in drought areas.

PREDICT MORE BEEF IMPORTS

WASHINGTON. &—Government meat experts predicted beef imports by the United States this year may exceed the 572,000,000 pounds that came into this country in 1936.

The bureau of agriculture economics said imports last year were exceeded only by the record years of 1927-29, and consisted chiefly of live cattle from Canada and Mexico and canned beef from South America.

Canned beef imports this year may surpass the peak total of 88,000,000 pounds in 1936, the bureau said. The previous canned beef import record was 80,000,000 in 1929.

Slayer Given 15-Year Term

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Walter R Boydston, convicted in federal court of shooting to death Capt. Ransom P. Ham at the Sawtelle soldier's home, was sentenced today to 15 years in the government prison at McNeil Island.

"The defendant is a man of superior intellect," said U. S. Judge Paul J. McCormick in passing sentence, "but through the long and excessive use of alcohol he seemed to have no conception of what he was doing. This murder seems to have been committed as the result of too much alcohol."

Premium on Tin Cans in Arizona

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP).—The rising price of copper has put a premium on tin cans here.

A mountain of the cans, pressed into bales, will bring from $750 to $1,000, city officials said. They are used in leaching the red metal from copper-impregnated mine water.

"As the price of copper goes up, so goes the demand for tin cans," one official said.

Hookworm Germs Found in Water

WASHINGTON (AP).—An army medical officer declared hookworm, like typhoid fever, cholera and dysentery, may be carried in drinking water.

The disease, which public health service officials estimated normally affects 4,000,000 persons in the United States, heretofore was believed to be transmitted only by walking barefooted over infested ground.

Lindberghs Sit On Floor to Eat

CALCUTTA. (AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, seated on a carpeted floor in the Indian manner, were luncheon guests of P. D. Das today. Das is the son of the late Rai Dahadur Das, well known Tibetan explorer and lexicographer.

Due to inadequate food, prairie chickens are rapidly becoming extinct in western Oklahoma.

MORE ABOUT

up the street to the so-called brightlights section.

Mr. Bradshaw, it looked like Tombstone City, Ariz.

All the tables were covered with newspapers and cloths, which in turn were covered with several weeks' dust deposits. One hamburger stand was still doing business at the old spot. Al's place had the chairs piled on top of the tables, and the old wheel of chance dismantled.

Across the street Hutch's place said "open," but the door was locked.

All those chip game places were closed up, and if it were true that they planned on opening March 8 they would have to hump themselves. I think that is the saying.

Some marble games were working, but Admiral Gaines and I could only win slugs (non-redeemable), so we didn't think you wanted to hear about them. We have that kind in Santa Ana, anyway.

Pretty Busy

Down the street J. P. Greeley, who was Orange county's first superintendent of schools, was digging a hole in the sidewalk.

"Yep," he said, "pretty busy, all right, pretty busy."

That restaurant in the pavilion (the one with the good clam chowder) was closed. There was a fellow chipping paint on the floor, and Admiral Gaines asked him if he knew where we could buy any fish, and he said he didn't know.

So we went down to where they keep the fish and game boat, but it was gone.

A fisherman named Shorty was there, untangling some lines.

"Fishing," he said, "is not what you'd call good."

It was at this point we met an unpleasant sight known as the deep-sea haddock. Fresh, this fish is most repellent, although it has no bones, but smoked it becomes Finnan Haddie, and then it's better, especially with boiled potatoes.

So Admiral Gaines and I went down to Newport. "Ask Hodge," they told us.

But Chief of Police Hodgkinson was on his way to Riverside with a small boy and a red-headed man.

The fellow at the police desk couldn't say. "Ask Rinehart," he suggested.

So we went in t the city hall to ask City Clerk Frank Rinehart. Frank wasn't there, but City Engineer R. L. Patterson was, and he told Admiral Gaines about his new sewer, while I went to a meeting of the Newport planning commission.

The trouble with the planning commission story, though, was that it was supposed to have five members, but only two came.

By this time it seemed City Clerk Rinehart ought to be back, so I went in there again.

"He's not back," the girl said.

"Listen," Admiral Gaines flared, "I'm going to tell the mayor about that Rinehart not being on the job, I bet!"

"Hah," she snickered, "you'd have to find the mayor first."

So when we found out the mayor was in the hospital with sore teeth we bought some fresh shrimps and came home.

This is my report, Bradshaw, about those roulette wheels.

Market Midas

Harrison Williams of New York, a bicycle manufacturer who became a utility financier, appeared before the Securities commission in Washington, D. C., and told how his investments of $2,000,000 climbed to $600,000,000 in value in the stock market in a year and a half. (Associated Press Photo)

BABY KILLED BY SUITOR OF MOTHER

LONG BEACH. (AP)—The killing of a 20-month-old boy by his mother's suitor brought together today the child's estranged parents.

The baby, Clyde Atherton, was shot by Walter Wengert, 23, who forced his way into Mrs. Ruth Atherton's apartment with the intention of killing Mrs. Atherton, Detective Lieut. C. E. Peterson reported. Wengert killed himself a few minutes after shooting the baby, said the officer.

Learning of the tragedy, Elmer Atherton, who had been separated from his wife since last May, hurried to her side.

Mrs. Atherton, a pretty theater usher, escaped death by hiding from Wengert in a closet of her house.

Police said Wengert had been her suitor before her marriage to Atherton. When the Athertons became estranged, he renewed his attentions, but Mrs. Atherton gave him no encouragement, and he began to drink heavily, she told officers.

The child was shot as he slept in his crib. Wengert ran from the house to a near-by parking lot, where his body was found, a pistol near by.

A note, found at Wengert's side, indicated he had meant to kill Mrs. Atherton instead of her child, the detective said.

Tubbs Back From Two Conferences

Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs was back at his desk today after attending two important conferences.

The first was held the latter part of last week in Sacramento, where Tubbs met with State Agricultural Commissioner A. A. Brock and other state agricultural officials. Legislative matters and plans for launching the white fly and white snail inspection projects were discussed.

Tubbs also attended the annual meeting of the Southern California Agricultural Commissioners association meeting in El Centro Saturday. Matters of quarantine and standardization were discussed. While in El Centro Tubbs aided in judging the county fair exhibits.

Claims Law Can Be Retroactive

A zoning ordinance can be retroactive when it affects a business with a clear element of nuiscance, Burr A. Brown, Seal Beach city attorney, contended in court here today.

Before Presiding Superior Judge H. G. Ames he presented a demurer, seeking to block a suit of the Southern California Refining company of Seal Beach which would declare the city zoning ordinance invalid.

The refinery firm, alleging that the city has refused it a business license in violation of the Constitution, seeks a court order allowing the firm to operate, and seeks damages of $75,000.

British Assail Italian Savagery

LONDON. (AP)—Members of the house of commons today assailed the "savagery" with which, they said, Italian troops in Addis Ababa carried out reprisals against natives suspected of the recent attempt to assassinate Viceroy Rodolfo Graziani.

(Rome dispatches in February, following the wounding of Graziani and several of his aides by bomb-throwing Ethiopians, stated scores of Ethiopians were tried summarily, taken to the edge of Addis Ababa and executed by firing squads.)

Leaves $600 to Science Groups

Out of a $10,000 estate, Mrs. Mattie S. Griffith of Brea left $600 to two Christian Science institutions, her will revealed today when it was filed for probate in the superior court here.

Her son, A. H. Brown of Brea, was named residual heir. Christian Science Benevolent association of San Francisco, and Christian Science Pleasant View Home, Concord, N. H., were given $300 each.

Mrs. Griffith died Feb. 13, leaving stocks and bonds valued at more than $10,000.

'Red' Squad Head Named in Probe

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The La-Follette civil liberties committee was informed today that Captain William F. Hynes of the "red" squad of the Los Angeles police department helped the Burns Detective Agency obtain a tentative contract for 35 guards in a maritime strike expected in 1934.

Senator Thomas (D., Utah) read a letter from the detective agency's Los Angeles office, telling of Capt. Hynes' assistance. W. Sherman Burns, treasurer of the agency, told the senate committee "we didn't get the business, however, because the strike didn't materialize."

NEW COOKING SCHOOL IS TO OPEN

Journal Event Will Be Held March 17, 18 in West Coast

Every woman in Santa Ana and vicinity is invited to attend The Journal's free cooking school on March 17, 18 and 19 at the Fox West Coast theater from 9:30 to 11:30 each day.

Margaret Lackland, popular home economist who has a host of friends in Santa Ana, has been chosen to direct the school.

Mrs. Lackland has prepared a program of particular timeliness and variety and her many suggestions for preparing and serving meals with the greatest appetite appeal and the least amount of effort will be of interest to all.

With the help of an automatic gas range and a 1937 Electrolux, the silent gas refrigerator, delicious full meals will be demonstrated each day. Programs, containing all the recipes demonstrated, will be given to attendants.

Background for the three-day school will be a new and charming "early American" kitchen stage set which has been specially built to create an appropriate atmosphere for the cookery classes.

A host of valuable gifts will be presented each day through the courtesy of local merchants.

In order that the program may be heard easily from every part of the theater, Mrs. Lackland will use a lapel microphone.

Plan now to attend each of the three classes. There will be no charge of any kind and everyone is welcome!

Townsend News, Views

By WALTER R. ROBB

(Opinions and comment expressed in this column are not necessarily those of The Journal.—Editor's note.)

The Orange County Townsend Club Officers' association met in monthly session Saturday evening in Santa Ana Townsend theater with W. A. Zimmerman presiding. Mrs. W. J. Pickering, secretary, described it as having been an interesting meeting. Some discussion was entered into concerning the advisability of keeping clear from partisan political or controversial matters in Townsend club meetings. The decision was reached that it should be the policy in all Townsend club meetings to avoid such entanglements. It also was decided to make each monthly meeting in the future definitely educational in type.

The ladies of the Orange county Townsend clubs who served a cafeteria style supper in Townsend hall, 509 West Fourth street, Saturday evening, were well pleased with the volume of patronage. The Hurd-Lentz orchestra gave a concert during the dinner. At 7:30 o'clock District Manager J. H. Walsh called a county mass meeting to order. The Rev. S. L. Wingert of Yucaipa led the audience in community singing and C. F. Alexander, secretary of the 19th district board, gave a talk in which he emphasized the Townsend plan as being more of recovery measure than an old age pension one. He told of its permanent benefits to the social order and especially to the younger people.

The Rev. Mr. Wingert, president of the 19th district board, was the principal speaker. His talk centered around the need and advisability of all Townsendites being loyal to Dr. Francis E. Townsend and his appointed leaders. He touched strongly upon the trial of the doctor before the United States district court, and the hearing which will occur in that connection in Washington, D. C., tomorrow. He pointed out the determination of the doctor to be subjected to a conviction on the preferred charges, or else be accorded complete vindication. He listed Dr. Townsend as being among the greatest leaders in America today.

The Rev. Mr. Wingert discussed the economic security question and pointed out the reasons why it is a national problem which must be solved by national type legislation. The Townsend plan, he pointed out, was the only social security program offered which would solve the national economic problems.

Some 200 Townsendites assembled in Townsend theater Sunday afternoon to hear the Rev. Josiah Tucker bring a message of a religious nature. The NYA orchestra, under the direction of T. Dunstan Collins, gave a concert. From the reports coming to the writer concerning this meeting, it was evidently greatly enjoyed. District Manager Walsh made announcement of the Passion Play pictures to be shown in the near future at one of these Sunday afternoon meetings.

A letter to this column from Mrs. R. C. Holmes of Placentia asks that announcement be made that Fullerton club No. 1 will serve a pot-luck dinner at 6 o'clock this evening in the Ebell club building at Chapman and Harvard avenues. At 7:30 a Townsend club meeting will be held with a good speaker present.

REALTORS MEET IN BELVEDERE

Members of the Twelfth District California Real Estate association, comprising realty boards of Orange county and the southern part of Los Angeles county, will meet at Belvedere tomorrow, Vice-president W. F. Croddy, Santa Ana, announced today.

Topic for the meeting will be real estate legislation, Croddy said. Speaker will be Hayden F. Jones, past president of the state association, and a prominent Los Angeles and Fresno real estate broker.

The East Los Angeles Realty board will act as host for the meeting. Croody said today a party of approximately six from Santa Ana will attend the meeting.

INSTITUTIONS 'FIRE TRAPS'

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Expenditure of $15,000,000 during the next few years in enlarging and improving facilities at state hospitals and institutions will be recommended in the report of an assembly investigating committee some time this week, Assemblyman James Cassidy, Oakland, announced today.

During the interim between the '35 and '37 sessions of the legislature, Cassidy's committee has investigated conditions existing in all of the homes and prisons and has found, he said, that, without exception, they are overcrowded, some are fire traps and in most insanitary conditions exist.

The veterans' home at Yountville is probably as bad an example as any, Cassidy said. There 1500 more men lodged there than there is space for. Some dormitories, built for 10 beds, contain 24, he said, and added that other inmates of the home are lodged in the unceilinged attic "where you can look between the shingles."

The Yountville home is a fire trap, and the place has an inadequate water supply, Cassidy said, and he "doubted if all could escape if the two old four-story frame buildings ever caught fire."

Cassidy said of the two state prisons, San Quentin badly needed a new building program to relieve overcrowded and insanitary conditions.

PETTY THEFT

Percy Munoz, 26, of Los Angeles, was arrested in Placentia late last night and lodged in the county jail on petty theft charges.

Leads Band

SONNY BROOKS

Attention, screen aspirants! If you want a chance at a screen test you must be registered by Thursday evening at the Santa Ana headquarters for the Peace Officers personality contest.

The contest will be conducted in connection with the annual peace officers benefit dance Saturday, March 13, at the Valencia ballroom, on 101 highway, at which Sunny Brooks and his band will play.

Winners, selected by Sylvian Simon, head of Universal studio's talent department, will be given screen tests and a chance at a movie career. Registrations are being taken at 420 West Fourth street, until Thursday evening.

The entertainment committee for the dance announced today that "Sunny Brooks" and his Hollywood 12-piece band will play for the dance. The band recently completed work in a new picture with Virginia Bruce at Universal.

Assurance has been received here that several film stars will make personal appearances at the Saturday dance in connection with the county-wide personality contest.

Mother of Local Woman Is Called

Funeral services will be conducted in Los Angeles tomorrow for Mrs. Louisa Baker, who died at her home there Friday. She was in her ninetieth year.

Mrs. Baker was the mother of Mrs. C. G. Illingworth and grandmother of Mrs. James A. Merigold and Mrs. Eugene L. Wood of Santa Ana.

Funeral services in Los Angeles tomorrow at 10 a. m. will be followed by burial in Fairhaven cemetery.

SHARP QUAKE SHAKES BAY DISTRICT

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Residents of the San Francisco bay region were shaken from sleep by an earthquake at 2:32 a. m., today which knocked articles from shelves and walls in eastbay cities.

Officers at the Albany police station and the sheriff's office in Martinez declared the movement in those eastbay communities was the sharpest they had felt since the 1906 San Francisco disaster.

Bottles on liquor store shelves were shaken to the floor and broken in an Albany store.

The shock was less severe in San Francisco, though the telephone company reported hundreds of calls by alarmed residents. Telephone exchanges were so badly swamped it sometimes took 15 minutes to complete a call.

An attendant at the office of Dr. Perry Byerly, seismologist of the University of California, said the seismograph at Berkeley indicated the quake center was "within 20, probably 15 miles."

He said that the fact the movement appeared more severe on the eastbay side, would seem to indicate it was caused by a slipping of what is known as the Hayward fault. He described the quake as "moderate" intensity.

The fault runs near the town of Hayward, about 15 miles south of Berkeley and near all of the cities that reported the quake as strong.

Officers Jail 24 For Drinking

Imbibers who drank not well but too freely over the week-end had a tough time of it. Twenty-four were arrested and booked at the Orange county jail.

Included in this number were two from Santa Ana and three arrested by the highway patrol on charges of drunk driving.

Those arrested by the highway patrol were:

Price D. Pruitt, 36, of Hollywood, arrested on Highway 101, south of Irvine Saturday; Salvadore Duarte, 38 Huntington Beach, arrested on the Coast highway yesterday; Refugio Esparza, 31, of 1632 West Second street, arrested yesterday at Huntington Beach.

Bank Completes Window Addition

Alterations which provide two more teller's windows for Bank of America customers have just been completed, Manager Chester A. Warren announced today. He said the increase in business forced the enlargement of facilities for waiting on the public.

Humming right along

All over the country, you hear more people mention the refreshing mildness and the pleasing taste and aroma of Chesterfield cigarettes.

You hear somebody compliment Chesterfields at a party. Another time, the grocer tells you it's a darn good cigarette. Or you see a group of men on a street corner, most of 'em smoking Chesterfields.

Because they have what smokers like, Chesterfields are humming right along...

SANTA ANA GAINS INTER-CLUB GOLF LEAD

Column Left

—By— PAUL WRIGHT

Floodlights of the Municipal bowl, dark since Santa Ana won the Southern California J. C. association football crown from Los Angeles in early December, will burn again this week.

Numerous stalwarts from this same grid machine will occupy prominent positions on Ernest Butterworth's Don rugby varsity against the Hollywood independents at the Sixth and Flower street stadium Friday night.

ERNEST BUTTERWORTH
His Dons Perform Here

A week from tonight Raymond (Call Me Doc) Smith, newly-appointed manager of Santa Ana's Stars, will assemble his nightball rookies for a brief workout at the bowl. The veterans report to him April 1.

* * *

Rugby, the lightning-like English sport that drew well when introduced here by Al Reboin last year, should prosper this season because Butterworth, the former Canadian mentor and uncle of Santa Ana's late Harry Clayton of the University of Arizona, has a stronger nucleus.

The Don fifteen blanked the U. S. C. Trobabes 5-0 and the U. C. L. A. Bruin seconds 6-0 in their first two starts, and gained another victory by forfeit when the U. S. C. Spartans failed to keep an appointment with them in a preliminary to U. C. L. A.'s 15-6 victory over the Trojan varsity at the Coliseum Saturday.

Among Bill Cook's football champions now out for rugby are Al Titensor, Russell (Rusty) Roquet, Howard Rash, Dan Boyd, Dick Tauber, Fred Pinkston, Harry Stanley, Joe Herbert, Fred Lentz, Joe Crawford and Bill Semnacher . . . They will appear in successive home stands against Hollywood, Cal-Tech, Pasadena Jaysee and the U. S. C. varsity club on Friday nights at the bowl.

Rematch Mehringer and Skarda Tonight

ABE YOURIST TO WRESTLE DR. HALL

Double Main Event Due at 101 Arena; Steinke And Berger Tangle

Peter Mehringer, the former all-America gridder, vs. Rudy Sharda, the Flying Finn, in a three-fall rematch, and Dr. Len Hall vs. Abe Yourist.

These four grunt-and-groan specialists will appear in a double-main event on the Orange County Athletic club mats tonight. Also on the program, which gets under way at 8:30, are Hans Steinke, the German giant, and Paul Boesch, handsome New Yorker, in separate bouts.

If Steinke gets by Casey Berger, he may be groomed for a crack at Champion Dean Detton. Promoter Sam Sampson plans to match the winners of tonight's double main event for a feature here in the near future.

Boesch, who was the center of Mrs. Man Mountain Dean's wrath in a near-riot here a year ago, faces Bull Martin, a rough and tumble grappler from the South. The last time Boesch appeared here, he and Ivan (The Terrible) Managoff teamed up and battered Man Mountain Dean, and Boesch was the center of hostilities as Mrs. Dean came to her husband's rescue.

Mehringer and Skarda tangle for the third time tonight. Principals in two of the most spectacular matches seen hereabouts in months, they stole the show from Champion Detton last week, but Mehringer's decision was an unpopular one with the crowd—and Skarda.

Skarda claimed Referee Rutherford aided Mehringer, and broke an iron-clad rule when he assisted Mehringer in untangling himself from the ropes. The speedy heavyweights settle the issue tonight in a three-fall, one-hour time limit affair instead of over the 45-minute route.

The unbeaten Dr. Hall and Yourist mix in the first main event. Dr. Hall's last bout was slashing draw with the Indian giant, Jules Strongbow. Yourist almost ruined Big Ben Morgan here not long ago, and Monday night pinned the ears of Les Grimes, Australian.

REX MAYS WINS

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)—Driving by 40-lap race over the one-mile course in good time of 27 minutes 43.25 seconds, Rex Mays of Riverside won the feature race of a program staged at the Imperial county fair grounds yesterday.

Tustin, San Diego Fives Will Play at Whittier

All roads lead to Whittier Friday night for the semi-finals of the C. I. F. basketball playoffs, southern branch, of which Tustin's Orange league champions are leading contenders.

Ralph (Bill) Cole's Tustin varsity, which eliminated Pomona of the Citrus Belt league in a fast and furious exhibition, 23 to 20, at Tustin, Saturday night, will oppose San Diego's Hillers on the Whittier floor at 7:30. An hour later, Whittier of the Foothill league will battle Beverly Hills of the Bay league. Finals will be conducted Saturday night at a site as yet unnamed.

Pomona bowed out of the quarter-finals only after a gallant stand at Tustin Saturday night.

Five precious points by sharpshooting Sammy Francis, clever center, pulled the game out of the fire for Tustin in the fourth quarter. Leading 19-18, Pomona opened the last eight minutes of play with a free throw for a 20-18 advantage, but Sam Francis tied the count with a short shot after his brother Paul had missed a charity toss. Sam was awarded a free throw on interference from Pomona's Duran, and sank it for Tustin's first lead of the second half, 21-20.

Foster Guards Well

With less than two minutes of play remaining, Pomona became overly excited in a wild attempt to gain possession of the ball, and Walt Linker was fouled. He missed the throw, but Sam Francis quickly retrieved the ball and pushed it through the net for the two points that sewed up the game. Only seconds remained, with Tustin possessing a three-point lead . . . and the ball, too.

The airtight guarding of a reserve, Millard Foster, was a tremendous aid to Tustin, whose attack was off-color in the first half through the inability of Sam Francis to hit the target. Francis, who scored 23 points in eliminating Pasadena 39-14 last week, had miserable luck against Pomona, his shots bouncing all around the ring. Despite the trouble, he closed with a five-point flurry to gain high-scoring honors with 13 points.

The fast break was very much in evidence throughout, and both teams sometimes resorted to passes from one end of the court to the other in attempts to catch the guards off balance.

Foster opened the scoring for Tustin with a shot from mid-court, and Sammy Francis, swinging away from the basket and shooting as he wheeled around, sank another field goal. Walt Linker took lightning pass from mid-floor to hit the ring for two more points, but Tustin's 6-0 lead dwindled when Duran and Thomas sank successive field goals for Pomona, 6-4. The Tillers made it 8-4 on a pass from Sam Francis to Walt Linker, and 10-4 when Sam dribbled in fast and pushed one in from the free-throw line.

Technical on Tustin

Tustin fans booed lustily when Umpire Jim Tunney awarded Booth, Pomona forward, two free throws with the score at 10-6, so Tunney charged Tustin with a technical. Pomona sank all three charity tosses to creep up on the Tillers, 10-9. Sam Francis caged a long one, 12-9, but Pomona flipped in two successive short shots to take the lead, 13-12.

Morse of Pomona made it 15-13 with a shot from the foul line, but Paul Francis of Tustin gained back the two points with another short toss. Pomona scored two field goals for a 19-14 lead, and Tustin retaliated on field goals by Sam Francis and Larry Monroy as the third quarter ended in Pomona's favor, 19-18. Then came Sam Francis' five points that broke up the game in the final period.

Horses Chase Lizards from Agua Caliente

AGUA CALIENTE, Baja California. (AP)—The sleepy valley of old Aunt Jane is about to be reawakened.

The lizards and serpents are about to leave the scenes where Phar Lap, "The Red Terror," ran down the middle of the track to make turf history.

Horse-racing is coming back to Agua Caliente. That is the word from Mexico City and Los Angeles.

The dust of a two-year siesta is about to be shaken from the $3,500,000 racing plant, with hopes that the romantic fiestaland of the cinema stars may be reborn.

So says Gene Normile, the veteran turfman in Los Angeles, who watched the growth of the sport of kings down here in Mexico through the Tijuana stage and into the Mexican paradise "at the end of the rainbow" in the building of the Agua Caliente Jockey club track in 1929.

That was acclaimed as the "most lavish and luxurious clubhouse, grandstand and stables in the world, all of steel and concrete construction."

It saw the fruition of James Coffroth's dream starting in 1917 of developing the world's richest race with the ultimate goal of $100,000 added.

In 1929 Coffroth raised his Coffroth Handicap at Tijuana to $108,900. The gala opening of Agua Caliente the following season found the first Agua Caliente handicap of $108,300 won by Victorian. In 1931 seven-year-old Mike Hall, rising from the ranks of the platers took the second Agua Caliente handicap, necking out Sun Beau the great money winning horse.

The next year the Great Phar Lap, coming from Australia, trained in mystery and secrecy, was the sensational winner over a field including a preakness winner, an American derby winner, the champion of Canada, the New Orleans winter champion and others.

Then in the following two years Gallant Sir took the big stake race in succession.

These were during the years of prohibition and closed tracks in adjoining California. Across the road from the Jockey club was the famous $10,000,000 SPA, the gambling casino of luxury, that year after year found famous figures of the world and day after day the glamorous figures of Hollywood in attendance.

In July, 1935, the lights went out. The show was over as completely as the final curtain drop stage play.

President Cardenas banned gambling in Mexico.

Santa Anita, a little more than a 100 miles to the north, in California, grew into the luxury center of horse racing.

The dust of the desert fell upon the romantic fiestaland.

Just what the scene will be like when the dust is shaken off is something only summer will tell. Normile, in Los Angeles, said he expects to get started in three weeks or so.

WILKINS JOINS L. A. ROOKIES

Jimmy Wilkins, Santa Ana High school's 1936 pitcher who played with the Catalina Cubs last season, reported to Wrigley field today for a workout with other Los Angeles rookies from Ponca City, Okla., and Illinois.

Wilkins may learn today whether he will be farmed out by the Angels to Ponca City, or assigned to another year of seasoning at Catalina.

Callender Scores At Pebble Beach

DEL MONTE. (AP)—Clara Callender, 16-year-old Monterey peninsula school girl, is the 1937 Pebble Beach women's golf champion. Miss Callender defeated Miss Marion Hollins, former national champion and three-time winner of the Pebble Beach title, 4 and 2, in a 36-hole final yesterday.

BEAVERS SPLIT DOUBLEHEADER

FULLERTON. (AP)—The Portland Beavers resumed training activities today after splitting a two-game exhibition series with Seattle at Santa Monica.

The Beavers won yesterday's conflict, a wild hitting affair, 12 to 7.

Leading hitters for Portland were Fred Bedore and Pete Coscarart, who hit home runs, and Nino Bongiovanni, who hit 3 out of 4 times.

The same clubs meet here Wednesday and Thursday.

Ripple's No Third Baseman—Terry

HAVANA. (AP)—It seems to be up to Lou Chiozza and Mickey Haslin to decide which will play third base for the Giants this year. Manager Bill Terry isn't counting on Jimmy Ripple, who has played at that post. "He's a hustler and a good hitter and the kind of ball player who would help any club," says Bill, "but he's not a third baseman."

ANAHEIM AND SAINT NINES CLASH HERE

Triangular Track Meet Also Billed For Poly Grounds Tomorrow

Poly field will be a-buzz with activity tomorrow afternoon, with Santa Ana High school's baseball varsity playing Anaheim's Colonists of the Orange league at 3 o'clock, and the Saints' track-and-field team engaging Garden Grove and Laguna Beach in a triangular meet.

Reece Greene's trackmen will run in abbreviated distances in preparation for the opening of their Ccast league dual meet season with San Diego's Hillers on the border oval Friday afternoon. Capt. Herschel Whitney of the Saints may run the 880 instead of the mile.

Coach Joe Koegler's Saint nine will present the same lineup that lost a 3-2 decision to Whittier last week. Joe Ortega and Tommy Wilkins will alternate in the pitcher's box and at third base. Ben Byland will catch. Gene O'Campo will be on first, Mitsuo Nitta on second, Pete Partida at short, Ortega or Wilkins on third, Jim Wendorf in left field, Ernest Barrett in center-field and Jack McClure in right-field.

The Saints, who travel to Whittier Friday afternoon, will spend the rest of March in practice games. Their Coast league season opens at Long Beach Poly April 9.

TROPICAL PARK RACES BEGIN

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The bangtails started the final 24-day lap of Florida's turf season at Tropical park today, the racing scene shifting from swanky Hialeah park.

Hialeah's 46-day meeting ended in record style Saturday when the filly Columbiana won the Widener challenge cup and $52,000 for Owner W. J. (Buddy) Hirsch, equalling the track record of 2:01 4-5 for the mile and a quarter.

A crowd of 20,486, by turnstile count, established a modern attendance record for the track. The mutuel turnover was $730,333, compared with $520,006 handled on closing day last year.

The total play for the meeting, $19,131,003, a daily average of $415,891, also set a new mark for the period since Joseph E. Widener assumed control of the plant.

Muroaka Cops Willowick's Golf Crown

Chester Stillings lost the Willowick golf course's annual mid-winter tournament title to K. Murcaka by a score of 1 up on the 20th hole in week-end finals. C. E. Brisco defeated Ray Burbank, 1 up, in the second flight.

In the defeated eight of the second flight, Ray Echols trimmed Maxwell Burke, 4 and 3.

E. Bryne, defeating W. T. Loescher, 3 up, in the semi-finals, will play George Walker in finals this week. Walker eliminated Forrest Neal, 4 and 2, in semi-finals.

Y.M.C.A. FIVES BUSY TONIGHT

The Advent Christians of Tustin, flashy leaders of the Community Church league, will be seen in action against the First Baptists in basketball on the Y.M.C.A. floor at 8:30 tonight.

In the first part of the customary doubleheader the Midway City Nazarenes will challenge the Church of Brethren of Santa Ana at 7:30.

Davis Cup Finals Awarded Forest Hills in May

NEW YORK. (AP)—While the first stage of the American Davis Cup campaign has hardly begun, the United States Lawn Tennis association has selected the last week-end of May for the North American zone finals at Forest Hills, L. I.

Confident the home forces will meet Australia in the final, officials picked the big Forest Hills stadium, seating 16,000, for the matches May 29, 30 and 31. They met at Germantown, Pa., a year ago and the invaders won 3-2.

Australia is sending a squad of four players, Jack Crawford, Adrian Quist, Vivian McGrath and 18-year-old Jack Bromwich, in addition to a manager. They are due to sail March 18 and reach Vancouver April 9.

DEFEATS RED HILL LINEUP BY 12 PTS.

'Best All-Around Team Play I've Seen,' Says Dr. Ross, Captain

DIVISIONAL STANDINGS

Santa Ana	48½
Red Hill	39
Redlands	21½
Mt. Meadows	17

Southern California golfing circles recognized in Santa Ana today a new threat in the race for the 1937 inter-club championship.

In what Dr. Garland C. Ross, captain, described as the best all-around team play he had ever seen at the Santa Ana Country club, the local divot-diggers ousted Red Hill from the leadership of group two here yesterday, 16½ to 4½.

The amazing victory placed Santa Ana 9½ points ahead of the field.

Five more matches remain in the home-and-home series, including a first-round stand at Redlands next Sunday. Only Red Hill, in a return engagement next month, can prevent Santa Ana from entering the southland eliminations, and this is unlikely after what happened here yesterday.

Dick Ewert, club champion, equalled par of 72, and with Jack Robertson, Huntington Beach community champ, posted a low-ball score of 66. W. W. (Bill) Foote and Ed Holmes jr. also carded a low-ball 66. Team No. 3 had a 72, No. 4 a 75, and Nos. 5, 6 and 7 a low-ball of 74.

Complete results:

Dick Ewert and Jack Robertson (SA), 2½; Cliff Little and Veeder South (RH), ½.

W. W. (Bill) Foote and Ed Holmes (SA), 3; Jerry Dowden and A. O. Allen (RH), 0.

A. W. Robinson and Ted Burkett (SA), ½; C. C. Denio and Cargney (RH), 2½.

Earl Wilson and Ben Manker (SA), 2½; Bergstrom and Drummond (RH), ½.

Ray Chapman and Harold S. Wright (SA), 3; Hungerford and Condon (RH), 0.

Elmer Curry and H. L. Robinson (SA), 3; Wasserman and Powell (RH), 0.

Warren Fletcher and Ralph Gray (SA), 2; Duncan nad Dickens (RH), 0.

Score—Santa Ana, 16½; Red Hills, 4½.

TRAINING CAMP DOPE

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Jack Rothrock, veteran rookie getting his second tryout with the Cincinnati Reds, showed up in training camp today after a five-day motor trip from his Long Beach, Cal., home.

Coach George Kelley was injured yesterday when a hot line drive off the bat of Catcher Dee Moore hit his leg.

* * *

NEW ORLEANS. (AP)—Sammy Hale, who after two seasons at third is being shifted to second base, dispelled today any doubts how he regarded the change.

"I was tickled to death when I heard Steve O'Neill wanted me to play second," the Cleveland Indians' infielder said. "They hit 'em past your ear too fast at third."

* * *

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A wide-open battle for the centerfield berth looms in the Cardinal camp, with Rookie Don Padgett and ex-Dodger Frenchy Bordagaray out to get Terry Moore's assignment.

* * *

KANSAS CITY. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, en route to Catalina Island, where they are due in time for a workout Wednesday, picked up Catcher Hal Sueme, Pitcher Wes Flowers and Infielder Linus Frey here today.

* * *

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Three hours of hard work, with "no time out," was Rogers Hornsby's order for the opening practice for the St. Louis Browns today. One daily session of intensive drill will begin training camp routine. "It looks like first division," the optimistic Rajah declared.

* * *

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—The expected arrival today of Buck Newsom, fireball pitcher, will complete the Washington Nationals' training camp roster.

Although he had not yet agreed to a contract, Newsom left his Hartsville, S. C., home for Orlando yesterday.

MIAMI—Picard and Revolta win opening match in four-ball golf tourney from Mehlhorn and Turnesa, one up, after being three down at ninth; Guldahl and Shute upset by Farrell and Klein on 38th.

ST. AUGUSTINE—Kathryn Hemphill defeats Patty Berg on 20th hole to win Florida East coast golf tourney.

BUFFALO—Neil Sullivan and Roy Coffin, Philadelphia, win sixth straight national squash recquets doubles title, defeating A. C. Ingraham and Leroy Weir, Cleveland, 17-15, 15-14, 15-6.

PHILADELPHIA—Ogden Phipps takes national court tennis crown for fourth year with 6-3, 6-2, 6-4 victory over James Van Alen.

CHICAGO—Archie San Romani outruns Glen Cunningham in slow time of 4:21 in Bankers' mile at Chicago Relays; Sam Allen equals 60-yard hurdle record of 7.4 seconds.

ATLANTA—Executive committee sanctions participation of Southeastern conference football teams in Rose Bowl and Sugar Bowl games, but bans other post-season contests promoted by "third parties."

SEALS BEAT MISSIONS

MONTEREY, (AP)—The Missions' pitching staff got orders to buckle down to business today after the Seals carried away a 6 to 4 training camp victory.

DON TRACKMEN WILL MEET TROBABES AND RIVERSIDE

Finding competition in the Southern Pacific A. A. U. Relays at Long Beach Saturday a bit too tough, Santa Ana Jaysee's track varsity began work today for its Eastern conference debut at Riverside Friday afternoon.

Although deplete of any track or field medals, the Dons showed up rather well at Long Beach.

DONS VS. TROBABES
Combining forces with Chaffey and Pomona Junior colleges, Coach Bill Cook's Santa Ana Dons will go to Bovard fields, Los Angeles, a week from tomorrow for a quadrangle track meet with the U. S. C. Frosh.

Employing Dave Clark, Hal Fastham, Tommy Sullivan and Walt Opp in the jaysee four-lap one-mile relay, the Dons posted an unofficial time of 3:38.4 in fourth position. This was their first competitive race and gave indications that the quartet will be pressing 3:33 soon.

Here's how they ran: Opp, running anchor, was clocked in 53.7. Clark started the relay, and turned in a creditable 55.5 mark. He was followed by Eastham with 54.7 and Sullivan with a 54.5.

Capt. Bill Greschner failed to get the 16-pound shot beyond the 41-foot mark. Ray Cokley surprised with a better than 41-foot mark to pass his teammate in class B competition.

Les Huhn and Blas Mercurio cleared 5:10 in the high jump. Bob Reif went unplaced in a fast heat of 120-yard high hurdles.

Former Dons running for colleges put on some fine showings. Jim Noe, unattached, leaped 12 feet to capture the Class B pole vault. Len Stafford, former high school bamboo artist now at U. C. L. A., was third.

From San Jose, Al Parr, 1936 Don trackster, jumped 22 feet, but was inches short of a third place. Frank Boyd, now at Riverside J. C. making up credits, was eliminated in the novice high hurdles. Major Anderson and Vernon Koepsel were members of several of the San Diego State college's relay teams which showed up well.

Cunningham's Prestige Is Threatened By San Romani

CHICAGO. (AP)—Every time he starts lately, it looks more and more as though little Archie San Romani is a cinch to succeed Glenn Cunningham as king of the American mile runners.

The latest demonstration by the frail-appearing youngster from Kansas State Teachers' college at Emporia came Saturday night, and was nothing less than a surprising triumph over Cunningham, the old master, himself, in the banker's mile.

He gave a capacity crowd of 8000 its biggest foot racing thrill since Joie Ray's day.

The time, 4 minutes 21 seconds, was far from spectacular, but it was excellent for the tour over a slow, new dirt track in the international amphitheater.

After Elaine Rideout of the North Texas Teachers had set a crazy pace for nearly four laps, San Romani, Cunningham and slender Gene Venzke moved out in a body. A lap later San Romani started pouring it on, with Cunningham and Venzke still at his heels.

Olympic Champion Earle Meadows and Japan's Sueo Oye cleared 14 feet 3 inches in the pole vault.

Here and There With The Journal's Rambling County Editor

By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

RIGHT here in Orange County, dear reader, you're witnessing the birth—or rather the continuation—of a tradition that I'm certain is going down in history.

It's this swallow business at San Juan Capistrano. It has all the elements of appeal, and is eagerly grabbed by every news-dispensing agency each year. It has a touch of beauty which many of our local traditions do not. Its appeal to almost every reader, the story of how the little birds wing their way for thousands of miles each year to the protecting walls of the ancient mission can't be beaten.

Still, a number of folks are super-critical. They wonder if the birds really do show up on March 19, as we so heartily claim each year. They're the same ones who wonder if Washington really DID chop down the cherry tree, and if Paul Revere rode a horse or a motorcycle. And who throw verbal boulders at my old pal Santa Claus.

The fact remains that those swallows really do show up on the same date every year. And leave on the same day in October. They may arrive late at night—delayed by storms and air currents, it's supposed, or they may show up before daylight in the morning. But, they're buzzing around the mission, rain or shine, every year at that time.

Isn't it a beautiful story? Rivals lots of the fairy tales told youngsters, and yet is true.

* * *

I still think this arrival of the birds might be turned over into a county-wide celebration. It would be unique, to say the least, and I know full well that many societies interested in historical significance of the annual return, as well as building up the county, would be glad to take part.

It probably wouldn't be for the best to name it "Swallow Day," however. Then there'd just be a larger collection of beer cans along the highways!

Wait until the Los Angeles chamber of commerce reads this'n! Editor Verner Beck poetically attacks our metropolis. Sh-h-h-h! He even mentions earthquakes!

LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles is a sea-port,
But it hasn't any sea;
It's boundary reaches Canada,
And as high as you can see.
It's famous for its suckers,
Its sharks and crabs and fleas,
Its cloudbursts in the summer,
And smudgy winter freeze.
It has two kinds of weather,
Unusual and the grand;
It has more unclaimed maidens
Than any other land.
It's captured all of Ioway
And William Randolph Hearst,
It's married Sister Aimee,
And in everything is first.
They've got the best gold diggers,
And Ramonas by the ton,
And nifty movie actors
Who never saw the sun.
They had a law on earthquakes
But they found it didn't work
When the land began to shimmy
And jump and jazz and jerk.
Los Angeles is a pretty name,
A luring, siren song,
You say it 20 different ways,
But everyone is wrong.
It has the keenest women
Within its haughty gates,
But all the lovely creatures
Came from other states.

Walter, the family cat, is in disgrace.

For a long time, there has been a mystery in the editorial household. Each time the family would depart, the wastebaskets would be attacked and all papers and cans scattered in all directions.

Bertha, the dog, was blamed for the upheavals, but gentle reprimands failed to do any good. Even a whipping failed to stop the depredations.

And then Walter was discovered, inside a wastebasket, throwing papers in all directions. Fun! And you can't spank a cat, so what's a guy gonna do?

I'm still apologizing to Bertha, however.

How many Orange county cities have town clocks? As far as I know, there's only one community where a bell tolls the hours, and that's in Orange.

Sounds good, too. Especially at night, although I haven't been in the habit of going to Orange much in the evening. I'm waiting until they finish with their new plan for illuminating the business district and Plaza.

But that clock, tolling the hours, has a sort of homey sound. Reminds me of Redlands, with the huge clock and bell in the Congregational church tower—I think it's that church. I've listened to that bell many times.

I'm for bigger and better town clocks!

May 14 has been set as the date for Fullerton's fiftieth anniversary celebration.

A really big time is being planned. All sorts of doings, both day and night, according to residents.

But how is Mayor Harry Maxwell going to make a speech from the city hall steps? They haven't any city hall! At least, they decided not to build a new one. The mayor might make his speech from the top of the fire hall!

PAIR NAMED TO 'LOBBY' FOR BILL

Kimmell And Mulherron To Go to Sacramento For Campaign

LAGUNA BEACH.—Visioning a sportsman's paradise along the 40 miles of county coastline, two members of the Coast association today were planning to leave for Sacramento to urge passage of a bill which would create a fishing preserve the length of the county's shoreline and two miles at sea.

Leslie F. Kimmell, president, and Dan Mulherron, head of the fishing committee of the Orange County Coast association, were authorized to represent the county group at hearings in Sacramento, when the fishing committee met Friday evening in Newport, it was reported.

Seek Protection

Committee members pointed out that this area, which annually draws thousands of sportsmen for surf and deep-sea fishing, should be protected from purse-seiners which take sardines, food of sport fish, for commercial use.

Assemblyman Clyde Watson, Orange, has presented a bill creating the fishing preserve, in nearly all respects identical to the one adopted at the last session and later declared unconstitutional by the appellate court, due to a technicality.

Following passage of the original law and its approval by the governor, many arrests were made by state fish and game officials, and the captain of each purse seiners arrested was fined $500, but the fine money later was returned when the findings of the fourth district court of appeals were made known.

Support Told

Many county sportsmen's organizations, including the Izaak Walton league, were represented at the Newport meeting. J. A. Rymer, Anaheim, national vice-president of the Izaak Walton league, and John C. Gregory, president of the Fullerton chapter, attended.

Kimmell, who last year framed the bill which was adopted, this year will bring to the legislators a picture of sport fishing conditions along the coast and tell of united support of county agencies behind the plan.

SLATE ART TEA AT GROVE

GARDEN GROVE.—An art program and silver tea will be held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of Mrs. P. S. Virgin, Woman's Civic club president, under sponsorship of the club art chairman, Mrs. J. G. McCracken. Assisting as hostesses will be Mrs. C. Ver Jones, Mrs. Allen Goddard, Mrs. G. A. Luz and Mrs. A. C. Robbins.

Mrs. McCracken will review the book "Heads and Tales," by Malvina Hoffman. Members of the club are invited to bring guests and if possible come in costumes of foreign countries.

Radio Is Stolen As Newport Firemen Sleep

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—It must have been a still alarm. Anyway, the Newport Harbor fire department's main station at Balboa was missing a radio today. Some joker got away with it Saturday night.

While all was quiet and the "sleepers" were sleeping in the dormitory back of the office, with their bunkers beside them ready to pull on at the first clang of the bell, some midnight miscreant gentled up the office side window, neatly cut all wires and stole off into the night with the nicest little all-wave radio the department ever had. So say the police report.

But there's no mention on that report of the fire in the eye of the firemen. If they ever smoke out the guy that did it—!!!

STOCK COMPANY PLAYS ARE SEEN FOR ART COLONY

LAGUNA BEACH.—Possibility of regular stock company plays during the summer for Laguna became nearer today with the announcement that various organizations are showing increased enthusiasm for the scheme.

The plan, as formulated by Frederick Rath, playright and producer, calls for a 10-week season with the latest Broadway shows each running for six days with two matinees. It is expected that a professional troupe will be used for major parts, with local Thespians used in minor character roles.

Rath recently came to Laguna from Ivoryton, Conn., where he was co-producer with Milton Stiefel in the summer theater for the past seven years and in which Katherine Hepburn and Isabel Jewel, among others, gained stage experience.

"The pick of the latest Broadway plays will be given," said Rath. He stated the project will not be in the nature of an experiment because the plan has been successful in New England summer colonies and will be run along the lines of the famous eastern summer theaters.

Rath was at one time assistant advertising manager for Paramount Pictures, and for seven years was on their writing staff in the east coast studio. He is the author of "First Night," which ran for 16 weeks on Broadway.

HI-JINKS HELD AT ORANGE

ORANGE.—The Girls' league hi-jinks, an annual affair, was held Saturday evening in the high school auditorium with the theme, "Do You Want to Be an Actor?" given under the direction of Miss Vivian Stanley, program chairman.

Parts from four plays were given, all parts being played by the girls. They were "Smilin' Through;" "The Curtain;" "Sweet and Twenty" and the "Constant Lover." Patricia Jordan was master of ceremonies. Afterward refreshments were served in the cafeteria to students, mothers and women faculty members of the high school by Miss Maxine Watson and committee.

The ticket committee consisted of Gertrude Amling, Gladys Bosch, Elinor Schmidt, Helen Allison, Helen Nehrig, Lubelle Behrmann, Betty Reed, Julia Ann Brandon, Jean Gross and Marjorie Miller.

Orange D. U. V. Fetes Visitor

ORANGE.—Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War honored Mrs. Anne Nichols, Fargo, N. D., a past department president, when they met Friday in the American Legion hall. Mrs. Nichols spoke on the work being done in her state, and complimented the local unit on its service to the community. Mrs. Jennie Bell presided.

Delegates were elected to the department convention to be held in Stockton, the week of April 25. Elected were Mrs. George Franzen, Mrs. W. W. Perry and Mrs. Amelia Hart. It was announced that the past presidents' club will meet in Redlands March 31.

A short patriotic program was given by Mrs. Belle Condon. Twenty members and another guest, Comrade Bernice Wood, a Civil war veteran, were present.

Golden Wedding Fete Planned

ORANGE. — Celebrating the golden wedding anniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wood, Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur J. Woods will hold open house Tuesday afternoon at their home, 148 North Waverly street, between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock.

The elderly couple are parents of Mrs. Woods, and lived in Orange for many years. C. E. Wood, Orange, is a son. All of their friends and former business associates are invited to call during the afternoon.

Students Visit Auto Factory

ORANGE.—As a reward for perfect attendance for the first semester of the year, 92 pupils from the Intermediate school visited the Ford assembly plant in Long Beach during this week.

The number was divided into three groups, the first made the trip Wednesday, the next on Thursday and the last group Friday. They were accompanied by Superintendent Carl I. Thomas Miss Mabel Lush, science teacher, Thomas Arrowsmith, bus driver and Don S. Danner, principal.

P.-T. A. TO MEET AT EL MODENA

EL MODENA.—An interesting program is planned for Tuesday's meeting of the El Modena P.-T. A., to be held in the Roosevelt school at 2:30 o'clock, Mrs. Marie Daugherty, music supervisor, will present a chorus of pupils from the second, thrid and fourth grades of the Mexican school.

A sound film, "Out of the Shadows," will be presented by the Orange County Tuberculosis association. A survey of school children made by Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, will be explained by Mrs. Edna Smith. There also will be a demonstration of carding, spinning and weaving.

P.-T. A. Parley Held at Orange

ORANGE.—The presidents' conference of Fourth district, P-T. A., held all day Friday in the local Presbyterian church, featured instruction to presidents of the county in filling out annual reports which must be turned over to council leaders not later than March 15.

Mrs. Mary Drown, Santa Ana, Fourth district president, was in charge. Following a potluck luncheon a program of entertainment was provided by the hostess unit, Orange Community Council. The Santa Ana police department staged a first aid demonstration and vocal solos were given by Miss Phyllis Kogler and Miss Stella Crist, both accompanied by Percy Green.

Committees in charge were Mesdames Vern O. Estes, C. E. Wood, and Henry G. Joost, general hostesses; Mesdames C. E. Wood, Wilbur Nave, J. S. Sorenson, Glenn Reck, Naomi Schulz, Fay Irwin, Marion Flippen, T. J. Seavy, W. J. Bren and Lon Foster, dining room; Mesdames Earl G. Smith, Owen Smith and Arthur T. Hobson, decorations; Mesdames R. E. Gross, C. A. Palmer, William Dyer, and August Pestolesi, program.

Party Honors Grove Traveler

GARDEN GROVE.—Mrs. C. G. Lott, who has returned from a three-month visit with relatives in Michigan, was welcomed home by a group of her friends who were invited to the home of Mrs. A. Allen Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Allen's other guests were Mesdames Clara Shumaker, Ray Beardsley, E. G. Neumann, Margaret Beardsley, Elmer Launders, John Neumann, G. L. Beardsley and Jess Perkins.

State Head Is Lodge Visitor

TUSTIN.—Grand Chief Charlotte R. Shaw, Bakersfield, was a guest of the Tustin Pythian Sisters Thursday evening. The special program planned for the guest included a drill in uniform by the staff and a solo by Miss Marjorie Rawlings, accompanied by Mrs. Grace Leindberger.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

CAUTION FOR DRIVERS IS URGED

GARDEN GROVE.—Caution and strict adherence to all laws governing operation of motor vehicles were watchwords of the talk given by State Highway Patrolman George Peterkin before members of the Garden Grove Woman's Civic club Friday afternoon. Mrs. G. A. Luz as program chairman introduced the speaker.

Orange county, he said, has been exceptionally fortunate during the past six years, when although 30,000 children go to and from school each day, not one has been killed although fatalities among adults have mounted each year. If this is to continue he said, the public must aid, as the county has not near enough officers. Children, he said, should be taught to walk but never run across a street, as in running both the child and driver becomes confused.

Bob Dozier added to the program with two vocal solos, with Miss Dorothy Barnes at the piano. Two new members, Mrs. R. L. Stringer and Mrs. E. B. Humphry, were welcomed. Mrs., R. H. Williams and Mrs. Zora Rogers were hostesses for the tea hour.

BIG CROWD AT PORT AREA

NEWPORT - BALBOA.—Record thousands officially opened the 1937 summer season at Newport-Balboa, Orange county's most popular combined boating and bathing resort, over this week-end.

Visitors thronged the five-mile ocean beach, filled the bay with their boating parties and sunned themselves in hundreds on private and public beaches adjoining bayfront homes.

House-hunters stormed every real estate office in the harbor district making reservations for the vacation months. Rentals for spring vacation already have been completed by the majority of the annual collegiate crowd.

Added thousands will enjoy vacations here this season, authorities said, due to the winter building activity that has considerably increased rental space over previous years. Many private houses, however, have not been listed for rent this season, but will be occupied by owners, real estate men said. The loss, however, would be more than offset by new building available, they added.

STAGE PLAY AT WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER. — The three-act farce, "Aunt Emma Sees It Through," was successfully presented before a capacity audience in the school auditorium Friday night.

Miss Nellie French, director of the play, appeared in the title role of "Aunt Emma," supported by a cast which included Faye Wright, Mae Finley, Chuck Benedict, Craig Snasdell, George Prindle and Everett Hylton.

An excellent musical program was enjoyed during the two intermissions which included solos by Margaret Van Meter, accordionist; Mary Lou Hare, pianist; vocal duets by Merle Rhea and Hazel Bebermeyer and several numbers on the steel guitar by Jean Brush.

The entertainment, which was given as a benefit for the Young Matron's club, will be repeated at the Woman's clubhouse in Midway City March 18 as a benefit for the Woman's Missionary society of the Community church.

ORANGE FORUM TALK HELD

ORANGE.—The Fireside Forum met Sunday evening at the home of Miss Mabel Willis, South Main street, with "Forgiveness—Is It a Practical Art Today?" as the topic. Miss Iolene Schmidt was discussion leader. At the close of the period the hostess served refreshments. Present were Dr. Robert B. McAulay, Lila Erbentraut, Agnes Adams, Caryl Harper, Marion Linnert, Miriam Powell, David Dozier, Oscar Schmidt, Howard Barnes, Victor Wells and Gene Erbentraut.

'Engineers' Aid Lifeguard Tower Project

LAGUNA BEACH.—Sidewalk sun-sitters at Laguna have a new diversion from their customary watching of sea-gulls and sardine-snatchers, with the start of construction yesterday of the new life guard tower.

The new structure involves sinking of pilings into the sand and the hydro-static system of water pressure is used and brings forth much technical discussion from the board-walk engineers.

The new tower will be the hexagonal building now used by the Union Oil company at Broadway and Coast Blvd. It will be moved to the beach shortly to make room for a new structure for the gas station concern.

GROWING PAINS By Phillips

"Now, why couldn't we have had a gran-ma like that?"

NEW CROP AT CAPISTRANO

Whisker-Growing Latest Fad

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO.—A new crop will be seen in Capistrano this week when the whisker-growing contest gets under way as a part of the celebration of the "Fiesta de las Golondrinas," or Fiesta of the Swallows, honoring the return of the birds to the Mission on March 19 after their winter's sojourn in the south.

Hirsute contestants registered today at the high school in anticipation of the handsome prize, guaranteed not to be a razor, which goes to the possessor of the prize-winning facial adornment.

After considerable expression of temerity, contestants were assured by enthyologists that the returning swallows will not be attracted to the dense shrubbery, but will return to their homes in the eaves of the Mission.

LAGUNA FORUM SUBJECT TOLD

LAGUNA BEACH.—Presenting a well-known educator, Dr. William Trufant Foster, who will speak on "Can Consumers Stand the Truth?" the Laguna Beach Public Forum will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the high school.

Dr. Foster, a graduate of Columbia university, participated in the early fall program of the Minneapolis forums and brings to this county's educational project the interesting experience he gained there.

Jolly Dozen Club Meets at Midway

MIDWAY CITY.—Members of the Jolly Dozen club met at the home of Mrs. J. Hadley Pryor Thursday for their monthly luncheon and card game.

Present were Mrs. Maurice Price, Mrs. W. E. Moore, Mrs. N. A. Nelson, Mrs. Gale Dunstan, Mrs. J. L. Esser, Mrs. Fred Basse, Mrs. Jimmie Bellar, Mrs. Wheeler Birdwell, Mrs. Harry Kingsbury, Mrs. Marcus Jungjohann and Mrs. Robert Hazard.

SLATE LAGUNA CIVIC FETE

LAGUNA BEACH.—Holding a reciprocity dinner for the various city organizations, the Laguna Beach Business and Professional Women's club will meet at 7 p. m. tomorrow at Bird's cafe.

Guest speaker of the evening will be Calvin C. Flint, Dean of Men at Santa Ana Junior college, who will talk on "Modernization of Turkey."

James McGarrigle of Long Beach will sing and Miss Andre Merritt, daughter of Mrs. Lou Merritt, will entertain with a costume dance. Myrtle Goff, club president, is in charge of the affair, assisted by Ada Purpus, vice president; Daisy Aitken, recording secretary; Marguerite Daugherty, corresponding secretary; Virginia Turner, treasurer, and Margaret Blair Jackson and Mary Rohn Chapin, directors.

VISIT DAUGHTER

COSTA MESA.—Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Andrews spent Sunday in Los Angeles at the home of the latter's daughter, Mrs. Grace Sage.

WATER GROUP MAY BUILD AT LAGUNA

SOUTH LAGUNA.—The South Coast County Water district, of which Elmer L. Crawford is president and George E. Grant manager, recently purchased the southeast corner of the Coast boulevard at Second avenue, through the offices of Jack Lasley, South Laguna realtor.

It is proposed to erect a building on the newly acquired site to house the water offices, storerooms, workshop and garage for cars and trucks. A new one-half ton truck has recently been purchased by the water district.

PRIZES WON AT FAIR SHOWN

TUSTIN.—Eighty-one prize ribbons and nine cups won by the 4-H clubs of Orange county in the Los Angeles and San Diego county fairs are on display in the window of the Tustin city hall this week.

The awards have been won by the clubs in various divisions of agricultural and home economics sections for outstanding exhibits. In addition, members have won $350 in cash.

The 4-H clubbers from Tustin who have won awards are Bertha Belle Smith, Sadie Monroy, Marjorie Shoemaker, Lucille Griset, Tenna Mae Ashcraft, Lulu Adamson, Marie Farnsworth, Henrietta Griset, Margarite Smith, Eleanor Case and Pauline Crawford.

ORANGE MAN IS DEATH VICTIM

ORANGE.—George Bishop Salkeld, 85, died at his home 606 West Chapman avenue Saturday at 11 o'clock after a short illness. He had lived in Orange for 13 years and in California for 42 years.

Surviving are a son and daughter, John T. Salkeld, Costa Mesa and Mrs. Georgia Saylor, Los Angeles and a sister, Mrs. Anna Owmby, Lordsburg, N. M.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Shannon Funeral home, with the Pentecostal Assembly officiating. Burial will be in Fairhaven cemetery.

Willing Workers Meet in Orange

ORANGE. — Willing Workers held an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. Rosalia Smith Friday with Mrs. Blanche Campbell and Mrs. Violetta Erickson as assistant hostesses. After lunch Mrs. Freda led in Bible study.

Other club members present were Mesdames Sarah Gore, Anna Huffman, Grace Deck, Mary Elliott, J. J. Underwood, Mary Huffman, Ada Baker, Grace Strickland, Euphemia Rails, Lillian Weitemann, Doschia Kerns, Mabel Elliott and Frances Allen.

THE PURPLE ARROW

By MILDRED SNOW GLEASON

(Copyright, 1937, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Frances Haven, American girl, has been living on an isolated little farm in Denmark with an elderly couple named Jillup. They are trying to force her to marry their son Joe, and keep her virtually a prisoner. With the aid of an unknown person who sends her a note signed only with a crayon drawing of a purple arrow, she escapes to Bucharest, Rumania, to join her brother. Shortly afterward, he is killed in a car belonging to Joe Jillup's friend, Arthur Slacks. Fran suspects the car was tampered with. She goes to a little pension in the country. Ward Petersen, an agent of the Purple Arrow, turns up to watch over her. Then, Joe Jillup and Arthur Slacks arrive. Joe, still intent on marrying Fran, seems to be plotting something with Slacks. When Slacks tries to warn Fran, he is found dead. Ward lets Joe know he thinks he killed his friend. That evening, Fran is walking in the garden, when a man comes running out of the woods, and dashes past her in the darkness. A moment later, some one else bumps into her, knocking her down.

CHAPTER XXV

For a moment, Fran lay on the ground. In the darkness, she saw the vague shape of a man towering above her. He seemer to be lurching from side to side as though he were drunk.

Then, suddenly, she realized who it was. She got to her feet, feeling a little dizzy.

"Ward!" she cried. "What is the matter?"

"Oh, it's you." His voice sounded strangely thick.

"She put a hand on his arm.

"What is wrong?" she asked again, anxiously.

"Nasty crack on the head," he mumbled. "Can you . . ." He swayed a little. "Can you help me to the brook?"

"Yes, steady, steady."

Supporting him, it was all she could do to keep her balance as he lurched along at her side. Twice, she almost fell to the ground, and by the time they reached the brook, her legs were trembling, and her shoulders ached.

"Here we are, Ward."

He sat down heavily on the bank and fumbled in his pockets.

"Got a flash light," he said. He handed her the light and a large handkerchief. "Water—lots of it, on my face."

Again and again, she soaked the handkerchief in the brook and drenched his face until he told her to stop.

"All right," he said. "I've come to. Take a look at my head."

She turned the light on the back of his head.

"You've got a nasty bump," she said. "There's a cut, but not very deep."

"I've got a lovely headache," he grunted. "Will you wash the cut?"

She worked slowly and carefully. Gentle as she was, he winced once or twice, but made no sound.

"Now," he said, "try to arrange my hair so that the cut doesn't show."

"But I think you ought to see the doctor."

"Rubbish! I'm all right now, and I don't want any publicity about this. I'll put some iodine on it when I get back to my room."

He stood up, and Fran put out her hand to steady him, but he seemed all right now.

"What time is it?" he asked.

"Almost supper time when I came out."

He stood a moment, thinking. "Listen," he said, "we'd better go down the road and pick up something to eat at that little wine shop. If we have supper here, someone might notice my head, and there would be comment. Afterwards, we can just say that we decided to have supper out."

"Do you—do you think it's safe, Ward?"

He laughed. "I hardly think my assailant will try the same trick twice in one evening. Besides, he probably thinks I'm dead."

"All right, if you think you can make it."

"Oh, I can make it all right. Let's go."

They started off toward the road.

"If you feel well enough to talk," Fran said. "you might tell me what happened. I'm dying of curiosity."

"There isn't much to tell. I went out for a walk after tea, and on my way back, as I was coming through the woods back of the garden, something crashed down on my head, and I went out like a light. Whoever it was—and I have a fair idea—must have been interrupted by something, because otherwise he would have finished the job. I am quite sure that I was not supposed to live to tell the tale."

"Whoever it was, ran into me," Fran said shuddering, "and I've got a button off his coat." She felt in her pocket, where she had put the button.

"I hardly think that was my man," Ward said, "because I had come to when you arrived and must have been out for some time. It was still light when I was hit, and was dark when I came to. But maybe it was my man, at that. Maybe he had come back to make sure of me. As I came back to, I vaguely remember somebody bending over me and then rushing off. He must have heard you coming. How did you happen to come out there, by the way?"

Fran explained wha had happened.

"Then it is possible," said Ward, "that you stopped my assailant from completing the job. Only, it seems a rather risky thing for him to return."

"I've read that the criminal always returns to the scene of the scene of the crime," Fran laughed nervously.

"Yeah—I've read lots of books, too." Ward grinned. "But he does not usually return so soon. Anyway, here we are. Let's go in and see if we can get something to eat."

U. S. BUILDING FAST WAR MACHINE

Small, Scientific Army Program Ready in Two More Years

WASHINGTON. ——The United States, twenty years after its entry into the World war, is building one of the most scientific fighting machines in its history.

Speed and efficiency, rather than numbers, have become the American military goal.

At a cost of nearly a half billion dollars a year, this is what the army seeks by 1939:

Here is program

In men—14,000 regular officers, 165,000 regular troops, 210,000 national guardsmen, 120,000 reserve officers, and 150,000 reserve troops.

In airplanes—2,320 planes, all under five years old.

In guns—more and better artillery and machine guns and 8-shot semi-automatic rifles for all troops.

In machines—more tanks and substitution of motor and tractor power for animals as far as possible.

Small, But Fast

This planned army is small in comparison with the 4,000,000 yanks who donned uniforms a score of years ago. It is small in comparison with the forces worried European nations are maintaining.

But military experts say it will be so fast and efficient that its size—officially called an "irreducible minimum"—is enough to defend a nation with the geographical advantages of the United States.

The April 6 anniversary of United States' entrance into the great war will emphasize the difference in tactics that may make this small army so potent. Twenty years ago, millions of men dug into trenches while ponderous war machines butted destructively against each other. The war lasted four years, exhausting the victors as well as the vanquished.

Four Armies Created

The American army's first post-war step was to expand it general staff to train commanders for a more decisive type of strategy. Division of the nation's forces into four armies and creation of a general headquarters air force followed. Now the revised policy is being applied to personnel and equipment.

Regular officers now number 12,187 and enlisted men 150,305, but the enlisted man will reach the 165,000 goal by July 1. The national guard strength of 189,173 will reach 200,000 or 10,000 from par on the same date. Expansion of reserves is the big job.

There are 95,000 reserve officers, leaving 25,000 to be recruited from college cadets and civilian camps. Congressional action will be asked soon to enroll 150,000 reserve enlisted men—all to be former regulars.

1500 Planes In Army

Pointing to the superiority of small trained forces against large untrained armies in both Ethiopia and Spain, American tacticians are pinning their hopes on skilled fighters and equipment.

The U. S. army now has 1,500 serviceable planes, roughly 60 per cent of them bombers. Five hundred more will be bought this year but most of them will be replacements. Some will have a speed of 300 miles an hour and a cruising range of 3,000 miles.

Passing of the army mule and the Springfield rifle are symptomatic of the times. The first mechanized cavalry and infantry units already are in service and the semi-automatic rifle will be handed out to demonstration squads soon.

Even traditional formations are yielding to the demand for mobility. The army has reduced the size of the division from 27,000 to 13,000 men.

2 Leap to Safety On One Parachute

KHABAROVSK, U.S.S.R. (AP)—Army officers told today of the strange escape of a red parachute jumper who could not open his 'chute.

Junior Officer Krevoscheff jumped from a plane with several other aerial artists during maneuvers and plummeted into the ropes of a comrade's parachute.

Unable to open his own 'chute, Krevoscheff desperately grasped his comrade's ropes and together they glided safely to earth.

Cause of Fatal Air Crash Told

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—United Air Lines officials announced that an investigation disclosed a radio microphone lodged between the control column and the seat rail caused the crash of a Los Angeles-San Francisco plane last Feb. 9, with the loss of 11 lives.

TALK ABOUT THE WEATHER!

Winter Normal, Says Expert

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Spring—the season of balmy breezes, budding roses and head colds—has pushed winter clear off the nation's weather maps.

For the weatherman spring began officially March 1.

But the astronomer, a checkup on the situation showed today, is still fast in the grip of winter. It won't be spring for him until March 21 when the sun comes over the equator on its annual swing northward.

The astronomical spring is fixed by the sun, the meteorological spring by the calendar.

So the weatherman's winter ended a week ago. It was, the records showed, just about normal despite mid-continent floods, extreme cold in the West and unseasonable warmth in the East.

"December and February were well behaved winter months," said J. B. Kincer, chief of the bureau's climate and crop weather division.

"December was very mild and February was one of the most nearly normal months in many years. Of course, January had the most erratic weather record in many years, but taking the three months as a whole the winter was more normal than abnormal."

January's unusual weather, Kincer said, was blamed on suspension of a high pressure air mass over the Atlantic ocean around and below Bermuda.

Like a truck breaking down in traffic it deflected other air masses from their normal courses and so brought on the erratic weather.

The most freakish development came, Kincer said, when dense clouds of soil from the southwestern "dust bowl" fell into the flood waters of the Ohio and Mississippi.

NEW MEASURES TO AID VETS

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Legislation designed to benefit thousands of World war veterans and their dependents is taking shape quietly in the house of representatives.

The lack of fanfare attending the preparations is in sharp contrast to the turbulent times in past congresses when payment of the bonds was under consideration.

The house veterans committee has been at work for weeks on the problem of caring for veterans' widows and mothers whose insurance expires within the next year or so.

Dependents of veterans killed in 1917-1918 have received approximately $263,000,000 under the original war risk insurance issued when the men enlisted, but the last of these policies is scheduled to terminate in 1938.

In the affected group are about 42,000 mothers of veterans and 10,800 widows.

Other problems being studied by the committee include the question of restoring benefits by the economy act and also the proposed renewal of five-year "level premium" term insurance which expires this year.

Lenten Meditations

"Nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me." Read Romans 8:35-39.

Saint Paul will always be remembered in Christian theology for his doctrine of "justification by faith." The idea is found in the Old Testament, "The just shall live by his faith" (Habakkuk 2:24).

With Saint Paul faith means a passionate devotion to Christ, so whole-hearted that his life is identified with that of his Lord's. Christ is re-living his life in him.

We Anglo-Saxons have carried the idea of the impenetrable self much too far. We are not so isolated, immunized, and insulated from one another as we suppose. Each of us lives in others and others live as component parts of ourselves. "When I sue God for myself, He hears that name of thine," says Elizabeth Barrett to Robert Browning. The Pauline conception of faith as a love for Christ which gives increasing identity to the life of Jesus and one's own life has been from that day to this the hallmark of Christian piety. It is the mystical restatement of the saying of Jesus that "the disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord."

Prayer: Almighty God, grant that as thy Son was one with thee, we also, being one with him, and living in our inner man the life he lived once upon earth, may be hidden in thee. Amen.

LARGE HAUL OF OPIUM MADE

NEW YORK. (AP)—Torn halves of a paper bearing Chinese writing, one in the possession of an Oriental carpenter aboard the Far East steamship Taybank and the other half held by an East river boatman, have landed the pair in Federal jail charged with trying to smuggle into New York opium valued by officials at between $200,000 and $500,000.

Federal agents announced the seizure, one of the largest in harbor history, the arrest of six men in all, and the questioning of the Taybank's chief officer, Roland R. C. Jones, and nearly 30 members of his crew.

One-half the torn slip was found, the agents said, in Willie Bonanzi's pocket, along with $1400 in cash, when he was arrested. And the other half, the tear fitting perfectly, was in the possession of the carpenter, Ah Man. When fitted together, they said, the ticket guaranteed that the opium was being delivered to to the person to whom intended.

The opium was found hidden away aboard the Taybank, a small steamer of slightly over 5000 tons, and was packed in small cans, much like tobacco tins.

'Man' Is Topic at Science Church

"Man" was the subject of the lesson-sermon on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The golden text was from Isaiah: "Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servant whom I have chosen."

A Bible selection in the lesson-sermon cited these verses from the first Psalm: "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night. And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper."

One of the correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, stated: "Man, governed by immortal Mind, is always beautiful and grand. Each succeeding year unfolds wisdom, beauty, and holiness."

43 MEASURES WOULD HELP NEEDY AGED

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—California lawmakers are authors of 43 different measures to increase the state's much heralded generosity in its care of the poverty-stricken aged, Assemblyman Elmer E. Lore, North Hollywood, has disclosed.

With the state declared to be already facing a crisis due to unemployment, transient and social security disbursements, Lore revealed that every one of the 43 bills relating to old age assistance boosts the amount to be paid out either directly or indirectly, or in some way has the intent of liberalizing the existing law.

Lore, who is chairman of the assembly committee on social security and welfare, has set the hour of 10 a. m., March 19, as the time the committee will begin consideration of the measures.

Variety of Bills

A chart he has prepared of the bills disclosed, he said, that:

Ten increase the old age payments from $35 to $50 a month.

Six reduce the time the state can spend investigating claims for pensions.

Five specifically provide that the recipients of old age assistance shall not be regarded as paupers, or modify the statutes in the interests of those who receive aid.

(The present law, Lore says, doesn't classify pensioners as paupers.)

The other measures variously alter the social security legislation.

Other Programs

Several provide there shall be no reductions for income if it does not exceed $15 a month, if earned by labor or services, for food raised by the applicant or his family, for firewood produced on the premises or donated, for financial gifts received, or for the ownership of a house.

One provides any additional federal aiv available to the state shall go wholly to pensioners.

Another provides there shall be no reductions from the present $35 for any contributions received by a pensioner up to $500 a calendar year, under certain conditions.

Still another would strike out by various ways the responsibility of a child to support a parent, another completely absolves all relatives of the obligation to support an aged indigent, and one sets up a standard for absolving a child, earning not more than $250 a month.

Assemble Probe Data for Use By Legislature

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—The Donihue assembly investigation committee inquiring into the workings of state administrative bodies with the view of consolidating functions and cutting costs, started today assembling the data it has unearthed for preparation of a report to the assembly probably some time this week.

Leon Donihue, chairman, summoned the old audit investigating committee appointed by the 1935 legislature and which investigated liquor control and the state board of equalization last summer, for the purpose of preparing a report on its activities.

Dynamite Falls To Floor; Jurors Vacate Courtroom

MINNEAPOLIS. (AP)—Jurors hastily vacated the premises when six dynamite caps slipped resoundingly but harmlessly from a table to the floor of Judge Levi M. Hall's courtroom.

The caps had been introduced as an exhibit in a damage action. A table was tilted and the dynamite tubes fell just as the jury was being told how an explosion occurred in the case in question.

State Sales Tax In 1936 Record

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—California obtained $81,235,523 in 1936 from its 3 per cent retail sales tax, a record amount, the state board of equalization announced.

Because of a change in rate and the exemption of foodstuffs in 1935, the board stated a fair comparison may be made only between the last six months of 1936 and the last half of the previous year.

During the last half of 1935, said Fred E. Steward, board member of Oakland, the yield from the sales tax amounted to $35,414,211 as compared with $43,613,752, collected during the last six months of 1936, a gain of 23.15 per cent.

MILLIONAIRES CROP IN U.S. TO BE HUGE

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Treasury officials forecast today that the biggest crop of millionaires in six years would file income tax returns this month.

Although they will not know definitely until clerks have thumbed through 1936 returns, officials said the accelerated pace of the nation's business machinery last year indicated an upturn in 1,000,000 incomes.

Forty-one millionaires were among the 4,500,000 persons filing returns last year. If the millionaire class was increased by 10 this year, it would be the largest since 1931.

6,000,000 to File

Millionaires, as the internal revenue bureau refers to them, are persons with incomes of more than a million dollars a year.

Altogether, officials estimated about 6,000,000 returns would be filed by the March 15 deadline, including 500,000 or so from corporations. Of the total returns, only about 55 to 60 per cent will be taxable.

All single persons with net income of $1,000 or more and married persons with $2,500 or more must file returns, regardless of whether they are allowed sufficient deductions to avoid any tax payments.

Most Under $5,000

If the recent trend is continued, about 4,800,000 returns will be on incomes of $5,000 or less. This group, comprising 89 per cent of all individual returns, will account for only about 7 per cent of tax collections, however.

About 400,000 will fall in the $5,000 to $10,000 bracket. They also will pay about 7 per cent of the aggregate receipts from individuals.

The heaviest contribution is expected from the class having incomes from $50,000 to $100,000. There probably will be only about 10,000 of these, providing close to 17 per cent of the total taxes.

The first Great Lakes steamer to carry the passengers was the "Walk of the Water," launched on Lake Erie in 1818.

CITRUS INSTITUTE TO LURE 1000 GROWERS TO ANAHEIM TUESDAY

LEADERS ARE TO DISCUSS PROBLEMS

Sessions Will Be Held in Auditorium of High School

Vital issues faced by the citrus industry in Orange county will be featured at the annual Citrus Institute program tomorrow at the Anaheim Union High school.

The event promises to draw the largest attendance ever recorded by the annual meeting, it was announced today by Dian Gardner, president of the Orange County Farm bureau, and C. Jack Zinn, chairman of the citrus department.

Frozen Fruit Problem

The farm bureau is cooperating with the agricultural extension service in conducting the meeting. At least 1000 growers from all parts of Orange county are expected to attend and hear the discussions presented by industry leaders, growers and officials of the citrus industry.

Latest information on plans for handling frozen fruit this season, including picking, pooling, standardization, grades and marketing, will be presented by authoritative speakers, all specialists in their line.

Many growers are seeking data on the advisability of installing heaters. The question as to under what conditions such an investment is justified will be answered. Regulation of heaters to reduce smokiness, types of heaters, wind machines, handling of frosted trees, fruit inspection, shipping regulations and many other questions of particular timeliness to local growers will be discussed.

The session will begin at 9:30 a. m. in the new auditorium of the Anaheim High school. All growers and handlers of fruit are invited to attend. The program in its final form, as announced today, is as follows:

Experts To Talk

9:30 a. m. "When Does It Pay to Install Orchard Heaters," Harold E. Wahlberg, farm advisor; "Lessons Learned from the Recent and Former Freezes—Orchard Management Recommendations," W. R. Schoonover, citrus specialist, agricultural extension service; "Standardization Regulations in the Movement of the 1937 Citrus Crop," D. W. Tubbs, agricultural commissioner.

12:15 p. m. noon recess.

1:30 p. m., "The World Citrus Situation and Recent Horticultural Observations in India and Egypt," Prof. R. W. Hodgson, University of California; "Pooling and Picking Plans in Relation to Orderly Marketing," F. F. Heydenfeldt, manager, growers service department; "The Valencia and Lemon Marketing Outlook," Paul S. Armstrong, general manager, California Fruit Growers exchange.

Elks Will Give City-wide Party

The Elks are going in for this "hosting" stuff in a big way.

Right on the heels of their gigantic membership dinner the Santa Ana BPOE lodge is planning a city-wide party, tomorrow night.

The lodge will play host to all masculine members of fraternal, civic, patriotic and service clubs, at the lodge's annual "Interfraternity Night."

Judge LeRoy Dawson, of the Los Angeles municipal court, will be speaker.

There also will be vaudeville and refreshments, Chairman George Bradley said today. The affair will get under way at 8 o'clock.

Italy Bans Film Of Malaga Fight

ROME. (AP)—A film, "the liberation of Malaga," made by the Luce Institute (Italy's semi-official newsreel institute) has been withdrawn from circulation because it showed too many Italian soldiers, officers and army trucks in Malaga.

The picture had been shown for two nights at the Rome Super Cinema, leading movie house. Some trucks seen in the film still bore the lettering of the Italian army.

Negro Janitor Due to Receive 2 Major Degrees

PITTSBURGH. (AP)—Among those who will receive degrees at the University of Pittsburgh this spring will be Edward Lee Harris, 34, the school's negro janitor, who already is a bachelor of science. His new honors will be master of arts and doctor of philosophy.

"If there are no jobs available when I get my degrees," he commented, "I will continue as janitor."

LABOR BACKING COURT PLAN

WASHINGTON. (AP) — Labor's Non-Partisan League set out today to bring pressure on congress in favor of the Roosevelt proposal to revamp the supreme court.

"The President has chosen this path—the only path—toward his humanitarian objectives," President George L. Berry told the league's national convention.

"It is up to those who supported him for re-election last fall to follow him now."

The meeting of the league, established last year to campaign for Mr. Roosevelt's re-election, opened a week which partisans of both sides predicted would bring debate on the court program to a new peak.

The President will follow up his Thursday's appeal for enlargement of the supreme court — if aged justices do not retire — with a "fireside chat" broadcast to the nation tomorrow at 7 p. m. (Santa Ana time).

Adult Education Editor Visits S. A.

Miss Mary Ely, editor of The Journal of Adult Education, of New York City, was a visitor in Santa Ana yesterday. Mrs. Golden Weston, in charge of adult education here, with a number of local teachers, conversed with Miss Ely at the Unitarian church, where she had gone with Dr. Everett Dean Martin, who delivered an address there.

Miss Ely is making a trip through California studying forums, and was with Dr. Martin for that purpose last night. They were accompanied also by John W. Snyder, of the state office of adult education. From Santa Ana the group went to San Diego. Today the party was to be at Covina. Later Miss Ely will go to Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Consul Defies City About Bill

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Peppery Belgian Consul A. J. Tellier asserted today the city of Mobile could not discontinue his water service because he owes $9.34 in municipal sewerage taxes.

Contended the consul: "I have the right to claim exemption from taxation on the diplomatic immunity basis."

But City Commissioner Cecil F. Bates ordered Tellier's water shut off, saying the meter was on city property and, therefore, not exempt from the tax.

FARM BUREAU SEEKS NEW MEMBERS

Annual Campaign Begun Today to Cover Two Month Period

A two-month membership drive was launched today by the Orange County Farm bureau.

Starting today, Field Secretary C. J. Marks will devote all his time to field and membership work during the months of March and April.

The program launched today followed action of the Farm bureau directors in voting to accept the challenge to the counties of California by the State Farm bureau officers at their recent visit to Orange county, according to D. R. Gardner, bureau president.

Edward Hall, chairman of the membership department, will be in charge of the drive.

Every farmer in the county will be invited to join the Farm bureau. Each Farm center will be asked to renew its efforts along membership lines.

HOLOHAN URGES DEATH BY GAS

SACRAMENTO. (AP) — Senator James B. Holohan announced today he would seek speedy action on his bill to substitute lethal gas for the noose as means of executing condemned prisoners.

Holohan, former warden of San Quentin prison who has personally officiated at many executions, declared he believed the lethal gas chamber was far more humane than the gallows trap.

"After all," he said, "the purpose of an execution is to remove the convicted person from the ranks of society. As long as this aim is accomplished, it should matter little how it is done.

"While no hanging has ever 'gone wrong' in California, there is always that fear. The tension among the prison guards is terrific. Such a mishap, if it should occur, might give impetus to a movement to abolish capital punishment," Holohan said.

WILL SEEK HOG BAN TUESDAY

A new ordinance to bar hog ranches from Orange county unless they meet rigid sanitary requirements and have the approval of adjoining property owners will be presented to the board of supervisors tomorrow.

Supervisors have indicated they will adopt the ordinance in order to halt an influx of hog ranches from Los Angeles until a number of communities now planning zoning laws can act upon them.

Jules Markel, chairman of the county planning commission, reported that Dr. K. H. Sutherland, health officer, has been besieged with requests for hog ranch permits.

Under the proposed ordinance, a hearing before the board of supervisors would be required before a permit could be issued.

Germans Sidestep LaGuardia Speech

WASHINGTON. (AP) — The Washington Post said today the German ambassador and his staff have declined an invitation to attend a Bronson Cutting memorial lecture tonight by Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York.

"Oh, yes, I remember the invitation," the Post quoted Herr Herbert Blankenhorn, German embassy attache, "but of course we will not attend. That was decided when we saw Mayor LaGuardia's name on the program."

The invitation was issued before LaGuardia suggested last week that a statue of Adolf Hitler be included in a "chamber of horrors" at the 1939 New York world's fair. The German government protested, and the American state department expressed regret.

Tanker's Decks Awash After Collision With Liner Near Golden Gate

Liner Damaged in Collision

The Dollar liner President Coolidge, her bow ripped open in a collision with the Associated Oil Company's tanker, Frank H. Buck, turned back to her San Francisco pier after taking off the tanker's crew. The collision occurred just outside the Golden Gate in a thick fog. Here is a closeup view of the Coolidge's damaged prow. (Associated Press Photo)

The Associated Oil Company's tanker, Frank H. Buck, settled quickly after a collision with the liner President Coolidge just outside the Golden Gate Saturday but gave no indication of sinking immediately. The tanker's crew of 36 was removed by the Coolidge but the captain and seven men returned to the stricken vessel when it became evident she would float for some time. The Coolidge, her bow stove in, returned to her dock in San Francisco, which she had left for Honolulu only two hours before the accident. The ships crashed in a dense fog. (Associated Press Photo)

Liner Goes to Drydock For Repairs After Collision

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP) — Dollar steamship officials ordered their $8,000,000 liner President Coolidge into drydock today as an aftermath of a ship collision Saturday that left the second vessel a derelict in Golden Gate channel waters.

The around-the-world liner's 678 passengers all were ashore.

Outcome of a dogged battle of men against the sea, striving for possession of the Associated Oil tanker Frank H. Buck, still was in doubt. After drifting seaward almost five miles following the collision in a heavy fog Saturday at a point not far from the Golden Gate bridge, the tanker drifted toward shore again.

Tugboats and coast guard cutters had three lines aboard her and her owners were hopeful of wrenching her free from a mudbank about 100 yards off shore. The tanker's stern was high in the air, but her broken nose was thrust into the mud and out of her gurgled slowly the cargo of black oil she brought northward from Ventura, Calif.

During the night hours the tanker wallowed closer to the rusting wrecks of the Lyman Stewart, a sister ship that went on the rocks in 1922, and the freighter Ohioan, beached last year.

Steamship officials estimated loss from the collision at $650,000.

OFFICERS PLAN 'BEEF NIGHT'

Imagine dozens of peace officers sitting around beefing, all at once!

That's what Probation Officer Dave McMillan, new president of the Orange County Peace Officers association, has invited members to do Wednesday night at the first meeting of his term, set aside as "Beef Night."

Following a 6:30 dinner at K. P. hall, Tustin, members, ex-members, and all peace officers will be invited to offer suggestions for the association's activities for the coming year, and to plan any desired changes in the organization.

Veterans Looking For Barber Chair

Have you any barber chairs you aren't using?

If you have, Robert N. Law would like to know about it.

The C. C. C. camp for war veterans at El Toro has a barber but no chair. Law, who is educational advisor for the camp, figures that someone must have an old barber chair that he would be willing to turn over to the camp. He asked anyone who has such a chair to get in touch with him.

GERMAN WILL IS FILED HERE

From far away Germany, and through the hands of an official German court translator and an American vice consul, came to the superior court here today a will, filed in order to dispose of a half interest in a house and lot valued at $5000.

In filing the will, Walter Erkes of Los Angeles pointed out that he does not believe it a legal will under the laws of California, and asked that he be appointed administrator of the estate.

The will was a mutual document, drawn up and signed by Hedwig Braun and her husband, Heinrich Braun, in Niendorf, near Hamburg. Husband and wife each provided that the other was his or her sole heir.

Heinrich Braun, as heir, has assigned his interest in the property to Erkes, according to the petition.

SLASHES ABDOMEN

OAKLAND. (AP)—Grief over the death two weeks ago of her husband, police said today, caused an Oakland woman to try to take her life by slashing her abdomen with a razor blade. The woman, Mrs. Catherine Lochner, 54, was in a critical condition in a hospital.

LIBRARY HAS 'BROWSING' CORNER

Table Displays Books of Intense Interest for Forum Folk

Through the cooperation of City Librarian Ethel Walker, the local library has established a forum "browsing table," it was announced today.

The table contains books and pamphlets of particular interest to those attending the Monday night meetings of the public forums at the high school. Speaker on these programs for the past month has been Mrs. Malbone Graham, who will give the third of a series of talks March 8, sponsored by the department of adult education.

The books which Miss Walker announced are available include the "headline book" issued by the Foreign Policy association with such titles as "War Drums and Peace Plans," "America Contradicts Herself" and "War Tomorrow—Will We Keep Out?"

Some of the books can be taken out but the pamphlets are not for circulation. Mrs. Graham has contributed books from her own collection, supplementing the material the library already has. The public is cordially invited to look over the material.

Bowen Named on Auto Club Board

S. R. Bowen of Orange county has been reappointed on the advisory board of the Automobile Club of Southern California, it was announced today.

Harry J. Bauer, prominent Southland executive, was re-elected president of the Auto club at the annual directors' meeting at Los Angeles headquarters.

The president's annual report read to directors stated that the organization was stronger in all respects at the start of this year than at any time since 1900. The membership gain last year from 90,084 to 103,147 was cited.

Firemen Fight 2 Fires in Tuxedos

QUINCY, Calif. (AP)—Feasting and fighting flames is all in the night's work for Quincy's volunteer fire department. The Tuxedo-clad volunteers left tables twice during their annual banquet Saturday night—to put out a fire in a laundry and another in an apartment building.

Weddings Fill Week-End as Couples Pledge Troth in Pretty Sunday Rites

Pastel Tints In Bridal Dresses

Miss Valerie Sutton Pretty Bride in Chapel Ceremony

Palest and most delicate of blue tints replaced the traditional white of the wedding costume in the beautiful gown chosen by Miss Valerie N. Sutton, daughter of Mrs. Mildred Sutton of 803 Oak street, Santa Ana, and Bert O. Sutton of San Berrardino, for the ceremony in which she became the bride yesterday of Charles Schmidt of Los Angeles.

Her lovely bridal dress was of starched lace and chiffon over taffeta, all in the same beautiful shade of blue, buttoned tightly at the front of the bodice and flaring open below the waistline. The dress had little short sleeves and was finished at the neck with a tiny band of the same material.

Fifty relatives and close friends assembled in the Santa Ana Wedding chapel for the ceremony, which was performed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Preceding the bride to the candlelighted altar, which was decked with early spring flowers in shades to match the dresses of the bridal party, was her cousin, Mrs. Kenneth Savage of Balboa Beach, her only attendant.

Cousin Is Attendant

Mrs. Savage was in pale green chiffon, her dress made floor length and with puff sleeves. She carried an old-fashioned nosegay bouquet of mixed flowers with frill of lace, and wore a wreath of pale green forgetmenots, to match her dress, in her hair.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, carried the same type of quaint nosegay, hers of pink rosebuds and blue delphinium. Just above the row of curls at her neckline in back, she wore a wreath of pale pink camellias, and her slippers were also of a dainty pink shade to complement the pastel blue of her dress.

To carry out the wedding verse, she also carried a borrowed handkerchief which Mrs. Cyrus Lurker's mother had made for her to carry at her own wedding, and which has been a part of the wedding costume of a number of other brides.

Reception at Home

Gregory Dawling of Hollywood attended the bridegroom as best man, later joining the newlyweds and the matron of honor in receiving guests in the Sutton home where a reception followed the wedding.

Here, the bride's mother, in an attractive dress of black net over a yellow and orchid flower print moire, and with black accessories and an orchid corsage, served a prettily appointed wedding supper, Mrs. Lurker and Mrs. Earl Young, two of her friends, assisting at the lace spread table with its white candles and white bridal flowers.

After cutting the first piece of the wedding cake, the bride changed to a suit of spring grey with grey squirrel collar and matching accessories, and a corsage of camellias, and departed on a brief honeymoon to San Diego with the bridegroom. Reservations for the couple had been made at the El Cortez hotel in that city, where they will spend a few days before going to the home that is awaiting them at 1015 West Fifty-eighth place in Los Angeles.

Bride Santa Anan

The bride received part of her early schooling here before her family moved to Long Beach, where she finished high school, and since graduation she has lived for a time in San Diego and traveled in the east with her mother, returning here to live a little more than a year ago.

Announcement of her betrothal and coming nuptials was told to the family at Christmas time and revealed to friends at a party early in January, and other pre-nuptial parties have followed in rapid succession for the popular Santa Anan.

Mr. Schmidt, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Schmidt of St. Louis, Mo., attended schools and college in that city, and is now manager of the Pep Boys store in Los Angeles. He held the same position in Santa Ana for about five months before being transferred to the city.

Invited to Wedding

Among the guests invited to the wedding were the Messrs. and Mesdames Gregory Dawling, Walter Bader, Harry Edgar, John Smith, and Messrs. Bud Weiss, Si Harris and Dick Larnagan, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Elm Woodward and Mr. and Mrs. Cap Boise of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Geldhammer, Mr. and Mrs. Alvie Davis, Mr. and Mrs. William Welch, B. R. Engel, and Miss Dolores Davis, of San Diego.

Mrs. Chester Nuckols, an aunt of the bride, Mrs. Ray Park, her grandmother, and Bert Sutton, her father, all from San Bernardino; J. Cover, Carl Purman, and Mrs. Ethel Burns, another aunt, from Laguna Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Savage of Balboa Beach, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Germain of Bakersfield, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Prescott and Mrs. Nellie Warner of Pasadena, Claude Lucas of Pomona, Frank Unger of Honolulu, Curtis Burns, a cousin, from Tempe, Ariz., Harry Miles of Ramona, Clayton Greenman of Truckee.

And from Santa Ana, Mrs. Mae Curtis, another grandmother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Cy Lurker, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Young, Mrs. Mae Lindegard, Mrs. Bess Simmons, Mrs. Joe Johnson, Carl Zerinskey, Joe Montana, and Mrs. C. C. Nuckols, and the bride's mother, Mrs. Mildred Sutton.

BUTTONS DOWN BACK ADD DASH TO FROCK, SAYS MARIAN MARTIN

PATTERN 9222

As dashing a frock as ever you'd wish for every daytime occasion, is Pattern 9222! See the way the pleated sleeves are cut in one with the smart shoulder-yokes, and this simplifies your cutting and stitching problems! And do look at the back: saucy little buttons travel right down from neck almost to hem—with a full pleat left unfastened for chic, and also for comfort in walking. You'll adore this easily-made model for sports wear, office, or school, for afternoon frocks are going "sportsy" this season. Choose a vividly colored cotton for fabric—figured percale, seersucker, striped shirting, or vivid tie-silk! They'll all "bring out" the flattery of the trim collar and unusual pockets. Complete diagrammed Marian Martin sew chart included.

Pattern 9222 may be ordered only in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 requires 3⅜ yards 36-inch fabric.

Send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address, and style number.

For you—new flattery! Send for our new Marian Martin Pattern Book! It contains just the exciting, new Spring wardrobe suggestions you've been looking for! Easy-to-sew patterns for everyone from Tiny Tots to Fashionable "Fifties"—including becoming morning and afternoon frocks, dainty undies, dashing sports togs and party fashions. News of new fabrics, too! Book 15 cents. Pattern 15 cents. Twenty-five cents for both when ordered together.

Send your order to Santa Ana Journal, Pattern Department, 117 East Fifth street.

W. C. T. U. OF TUSTIN PLANS PENNY PARTY

A covered-dish luncheon and penny party will be shared by members and friends of the Tustin W. C. T. U. March 12 in the social hall of the Tustin Presbyterian church, the union joining a nationwide program of money-raising for the annual worlds' W. C. T. U. convention which will take place next June in Washington, D. C. The money will be used to assist in entertaining visitors from the foreign countries.

Mrs. J. L. Marshall and Mrs. C. E. Utt are making arrangements for Friday afternoon's program, which will include two prominent speakers, R. R. Lutes of the sheriff's office talking on "Marijuana" and Mrs. Pearl Kendall Hess of Orange, who will discuss "Alcohol Education." Mrs. Eleanor Duncan will conduct the devotional period, and special musical numbers will be presented.

A business session will be held at 11 o'clock, with the president, Mrs. Mabel Hazen, presiding.

At 12 o'clock, a covered-dish luncheon will be shared with Mrs. Mary Greenwood, Miss Melissa Montgomery, Mrs. A. C. Williams and Miss Clara Macomber serving on the luncheon committee and Mesdames Cora Lee, Laura Custer and W. F. O'Hara in charge of the tables. Each woman attending is asked to bring a covered-dish and her own table service.

BACHELORS ARE HOSTS AT GALA AFFAIR

Ornament bracelets with the initials, "B. B.," were favors for the Bachelors' guests and red carnations marked the places of the Bachelors at the dinner which preceded the annual ball of that group of Santa Ana Junior college young men Friday night at the Pacific Coast club in Long Beach.

Places for 80 were laid at long tables bright with flowering quince and peach, members of the Bachelors' club and their invited guests gathering for the dinner and about 200 of their school friends joining them later for the dance.

Bill Greschner, president of the club, presided as master of ceremonies at the dinner, introducing at the speakers' table D. K. Hammond, director and dean of the college, and Mrs. Hammond, Calvin Flint, dean of men and Mrs. Flint, Harold Moomaw and Blanchard Beatty, advisors of the club, and Mrs. Moomaw and Mrs. Beatty.

These couples also formed the reception committee for the dance, Mrs. Hammond in red with silver accents, Mrs. Flint in black with net top, Mrs. Beatty in a delicate pink lace frock, and Mrs. Moomaw in gold crepe with gold accessories.

Dancing took place in the ballroom and on the patio overlooking the ocean, an orchestra from Occidental college furnishing the music.

Lovely spring formals of the young lady guests made a picturesque scene in the ballroom and patio where dancing was enjoyed to music of an Occidental college orchestra. During one of the intermissions, little Lola Harmon entertained the crowd with a song and dance number, the remainder of the evening being devoted to the program of dancing arranged by the host committee.

HONORS SISTER ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Blanche Palmer of 522 East Washington entertained at an informal dinner in her home recently, honoring the birthday anniversary of her sister, Mrs. Max Temple.

Mrs. Palmer's daughter, Cornelia, arranged the table with a center bowl of narcissus. Seated around the table were Mrs. Temple, the honored guest her daughters' families, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Leake and Mrs. Maxine Bradford and daughter, Marjory Don; Mrs. Palmer's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walton, and Miss Cornelia Palmer. Mr. Temple was unable to attend because of illness.

Following the delicious dinner, the honor guest opened the pretty gifts which had been brought to her.

CHICAGO GROUP AT DINNER HERE SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Nelles honored former Chicago friends when they entertained at dinner yesterday in their home on Lowell street.

Serving buffet style, the hosts spread their table with a lace table cloth and centered it with peach blossoms and other spring flowers.

All of the guests and the hosts are former residents of Chicago, nine of them, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Howard, Dr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Miller, Mrs. A. Kiest, Mr. and Mrs. Park Whitmore, and Dr. and Mrs. Victor Hitz, just out here for the winter. Rounding out the circle were Mrs. Lela Framheim of Santa Ana, and the host and hostess.

ARMESIS CLUB

Armesis club will meet at 8 p. m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Bessie McWilliams, 520 South Garnsey street.

Hollywood Is New Home Of Bride

Baskets of spring flowers, their pastel tints in pretty contrast to the ferns and palms which banked the candlelighted altar, decked the bride's chapel of the First Methodist church Sunday afternoon to create a lovely setting for the wedding of Miss Lettie L. Stowe, daughter of Mrs. Fred A. Stowe of 212 North Ross street, Santa Ana, and Joseph McIlroy of Hollywood.

The rites were read at three o'clock by Dr. George A. Warmer in the presence of 75 friends and relatives of the couple, the ceremony being preceded by a charming musical interlude in which Mrs. John P. Williams sang wedding solos and Mrs. Mayme Y. Havens presided at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Kenneth F. Stowe, with whom she has made her home for the past four years in Los Angeles, wore a swagger suit of a lupin blue shade, with pink blouse and gloves, and navy blue hat, shoes, and bag. Her corsage was of pink Finch rosebuds.

Both Wear Suits

As her only attendant, Miss Stowe had chosen Miss Irene Ostiguy, a friend who had been a business associate of the former when she was employed at Bullock's in Los Angeles, Miss Ostiguy wearing a brown suit with beige blouse and gloves and other accessories of brown.

Charles Stolker of Hollywood was the best man, and Harold, Jack, and Robert Stowe, nephews of the bride, were the ushers. The former is a fellow worker of the bridegroom in the Paramount studios.

Mrs. Stowe, the bride's mother, who assisted in the reception following in the church parlors, wore a dress of dubonnet satin back crepe with a gardenia corsage.

Assisting at the reception table, at which the bride cut her cake, were cousins of the bride, Erma Frase, Anna Johnson of Fairmont, Minn., the bride's birthplace, who is spending the winter in Santa Ana, Beryl Horton of Los Angeles, Harriet Mitchell, Myrtle Blencoe, and Emma Rose. They were assisted by lifelong friends of the bride, the Mesdames Etta Sweet, Isabel Getty, Adalaide Lowe, and Miss Margaret Grant.

Ralph Mitchell and Lyle Blencoe, cousins, and Keith and Kenneth Stowe, brothers of the bride, also assisted in serving.

To Live in Hollywood

After the reception, the newlyweds departed for a few days' honeymoon at Long Beach, where they were taken by the bride's older brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Stowe of Pasadena. On their return, they will go to Hollywood to make their home at 5342 Monroe street.

Guests at the wedding included relatives and friends living in Santa Ana, Los Angeles, Pasadena, Ventura, Anaheim, and San Bernardino, both the bride and bridegroom having wide acquaintance in Southern California.

The new Mrs. McIlroy lived in Santa Ana for many years, and was assistant cashier in the local office of the Southern Counties Gas company for eight years. She went from there to the office of Bullocks' Los Angeles store, and then to the Los Angeles office of the Southern California Gas company where she has worked for the past seven years.

Mr. McIlroy was born in Scotland, coming to this country and settling in Vancouver shortly before the World War. During the war, he served in France with the Canadian army, and after his discharge came to Los Angeles where he has been employed for the past 14 years as painter and interior decorator at the Paramount studios.

The bride was very active in Santa Ana chapter of the Eastern Star while she lived here, being a charter member and first secretary of the lodge. She held that office for eight years.

The bridegroom is a member of Henry S. Orm lodge of F. and A. Masons in Los Angeles. It was through their contact in Los Angeles Masonic circles that the bride and bridegroom first became acquainted.

GOLDEN STATE CLUB LUNCHES

A meeting of the Golden State luncheon club this past week was really a welcoming gesture in many ways, for Mrs. Hannah Ray, Mrs. Lena Pope, Mrs. Agnes Nelson and Mrs. Lena Chapman were accepted as new members, Mrs. Celica Cook, Mrs. Iva Stephenson and Mrs. A. Annee were greeted after a long leave of absence, and Mrs. Marianne Johnson and Miss Trena Johnson were welcomed after being ill for some time.

After the customary delicious pot-luck luncheon had been enjoyed at tables decorated in St. Patrick's motif by the hostess, Mrs. Flora Dolbee, with the assistance of Mrs. Marie Wilson and Mrs. Viola Adams, Mrs. Margie Boyd, the president, conducted a brief business session.

Thereupon the day was given over to a social session and cards, and prizes were won by Mrs. Jessie Chapman and Miss Margie Chapman.

Mrs. Hart Pennington will be hostess to the club on April 2 at her home, 510 East Myrtle street.

CALUMPIT AUXILIARY

Calumpit auxiliary to the United Spanish War Veterans are to meet all day Wednesday for a social meeting at the ranch home of Mrs. Walter Tantlinger. There will be a pot-luck luncheon at noon, and the comrades are invited.

Two Preside At Luncheon Saturday

Two charming hostesses were Mrs. Robert Jeffrey and Mrs. C. W. Hyde when they entertained jointly at a bridge luncheon Saturday at Danigers' tearoom, where one long table was decorated for their guests in a St. Patrick theme.

As a centerpiece for the table, the hostesses arranged a bowl of white flowers and greenery, silver holders at either side holding green and white candles.

The two hostesses wore formal afternoon gowns to receive their guests, Mrs. Jeffrey in dark blue lace with red accessories and Mrs. Hyde in a flowered gown and yellow hat.

Following the luncheon, the guests played contract bridge, the winners at the close of the games receiving gift packages of a popular cosmetic line, tied with green and white ribbons in keeping with the Erin theme.

The awards went to Mrs. Williams, high, and to Mrs. Haddon, second.

Enjoying the day's hospitality with the two hostesses were Mrs. Chester Brown, Mrs. Susan Rutherford, Mrs. Ida Deakin, Mrs. G. M. Grundy, and Mrs. H. E. Stahler, all of Balboa; Mrs. D. K. Hammond, Mrs. A. W. Rutan, Mrs. H. T. Duckett, Mrs. Henry Williams, Mrs. Walter Hill, Mrs. C. M. Doty, Mrs. H. T. Dunning, Mrs. Hugh Shields, Mrs. Helen Anderson, Mrs. Sarah Johnston Haddon, Mrs. R. C. Holles, Mrs. Mortimer Plum, Mrs. James Irvine, Mrs. Frank Andrews, Mrs. Frederick Elliott, Mrs. Cassius Paul, and Mrs. D. A. Harwood, all of Santa Ana; and Mrs. J. K. Hermon of Tustin, and the latter's house guest, Mrs. Jack Husted of Philadelphia, Pa.

POMONA CONCERT TOMORROW NIGHT

A number of Santa Ana music-lovers will attend a concert to be given tomorrow at 8 p. m. by the Pomona Symphony orchestra in the Pomona High school auditorium.

Several local musicians are part of the orchestra, including Fred Ferrey, Bob McAvery, Mitchell Hokins, Rose Marie Flint, Anna May Archer, Elwood Bear, George Lusk, and Pauline Graf Rhodes. Among their numbers in this week's concert will be two of Beethoven's, his "First Symphony," and his "Coriolan," Liadow's "Baba-Joga," and Rimsky-Korsakov's "Capriccio Espagnol."

SHRINE PARTY IS TOMORROW

Salad, instead of dessert, will be served to members and friends of Damascus White Shrine of Jerusalem tomorrow when the shrine entertains at a benefit party in the Masonic temple.

The refreshment course will be served at 1 o'clock, with contract and auction following and prizes in both. Tickets may be secured at the door or by phoning Mrs. Jennie Shipe, 3432-W, or Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, 3356-W. Mrs. Florence Wright is general chairman.

GARDEN STUDY CLUB TO LUNCH

The Santa Ana Garden Study club will meet for a twelve o'clock luncheon Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mason Yould, 2416 Riverside Drive. Members will answer to roll call with the names of Scandinavian flowers.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Yould will be Mrs. R. C. Berger, Mrs. E. J. Gruettner, and Mrs. W. R. Heath.

MARY STODDARD

Women May Not Always Be as Honest as Men but They Are as Loyal

By MARY STODDARD

"Why is it that a man is more frank and honest than a woman?" One might suppose this query was sent by a man. To the contrary the interrogation is from a woman who claims that her experience in life has proved this to be true. She tells us about it in the following letter: Dear Miss Stoddard: Why is it that a man is more frank and honest than a woman? I have found this true as far as I have gone in life. I am in my late twenties and married. I am a woman and I don't believe in running my own sex down.

I am merely asking for information. Why is it that when a person isn't present to defend himself, some woman will talk behind one's back? A man is willing to say what he has to say to your face whether you like it or not. I guess that is why I get along with men better than I do women, but I have women friends, too.

I am frank and honest myself and I imagine you are, too. Here is wishing you many more successful years in your wonderful column work and I'll be watching for your answer to my question as you see it. AN OBSERVER.

Your statement that men are more frank and honest than women is true in certain cases and I believe most women are fair enough to admit that. It is true in the social sense, as neighbors, acquaintances and in their attitude towards friends of their own sex. I do not concede, however, that as to honesty and loyalty between the sexes the same holds true. In that division I think the women hold the edge for honesty and always have. Of course, I speak generally.

But the reasons, you ask? Until recently it has always been pretty much of a man's world, still is, in fact, but to a lesser degree. Woman, in order to achieve something, had to use diplomacy and tact and there's just a little dishonesty in both. She is physically different. The man could talk straight from the shoulder and could back up his remark with a left to the chin if necessary.

The majority of married women have the neighborhood problem to cope with to a much greater degree than their husbands who spend the greater part of their time away from home.

"Mrs. Neighbor" cannot be brutally frank. Sometimes when "Mrs. Tact" is forced to listen to gossip about young "Mrs. X," as much as she would like to, finds it hard to "shoulder arms" for "Mrs. X," because the repeater of the gossip may be an old neighborhood friend of hers.

A man, too, can express himself any place, any time, and if his office crowd don't like him he has his club or his particular cronies. His work, his sports keep his mind occupied and thus he has outlets that his wife at home hasn't.

Women are more cruel toward the weak sisters of their own sex than men are toward their weaker brothers. Why this is so no one really knows, unless it is woman's peculiar vanity and ego, or should I say, righteousness?

We have all known the female who just dearly loved to get something in the way of scandal on an acquaintance. She often is not morally better than her acquaintance, but somehow, the telling and retelling of the "tidbit" actually makes her feel better and increases her "more holy than thou" attitude.

Let me say this, however. Give some men the same amount of leisure the average wife finds in her neighborhood, and confine them to a smaller territory and fewer associates than they enjoy in the business world, and I'll show you a group of gossips that will put all the Mrs. "I-Told-You-So's" and "Fussbudgets" in the world to shame.

NEGROES TOPIC OF MISSIONARY MEETING

"The Negro Question in the United States" was the topic of the program for the Women's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church when it met in the social hall on Wednesday with Mrs. H. W. Guthrie presiding.

After opening prayer by Mrs. E. M. Miles, committee reports, and announcement of an Orange county rally in Wintersburg on March 10, plans were completed for the Standard Bearer rally last night in which the home and foreign missionary societies assisted, and the program was then opened with fact questions.

Mrs. Muriel White completed her study of the book, "A Preface to Racial Understanding," and this was followed by a mite box demonstration preparatory to opening of the boxes in April. Mrs. J. W. McCormac played the role of the grandmother in the skit, Miss Beulah Cornett was the granddaughter, and Miss Irma DeBarr represented Mrs. Guthrie, the society president. Solos by Miss Vera Parker brought the program to a close, and Mrs. George Townsend conducted a devotional Lenten service.

MRS. FRITCHER IS INITIATED

When the Ernest L. Kellogg auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars met Friday evening, it was to initiate Mrs. Abbietta P. Fritcher of Garden Grove as a new member. Mrs. Irene Stewart, the president, presided.

Among the various reports accepted were that Mrs. Anna Sullivan, Mrs. Harriet Levering and Mrs. Ella Johnson had visited the hospital at Sawtelle Feb. 26, that the sewing club would meet at Mrs. Lenna Hansen's home, 320 East Pomona street, March 31, and that a pot-luck dinner would be held Friday, March 26, at the Knights of Pythias hall for members and prospective members of the post and auxiliary.

Mrs. Ruth O'Mailia announced that a card party would be held Friday, March 12, at 8 p. m. in the K. P. hall, to which the public is invited.

Mrs. Cora Gillaspy was awarded the attendance prize Friday evening, and refreshments were served to both the post and auxiliary by Mrs. Ruth O'Mailia, Mrs. Louise Hubbard, Mrs. Harriet Levering and Mrs. Eleanor Shaw.

SECOND HOUSEHOLD GROUP

Second household economics section of Ebell club will have a 12:30 luncheon on Wednesday at the clubhouse and after luncheon will hear about Indian rugs in an illustrated lecture. Those unable to attend are asked to phone Mrs. Ralph Mosher, 4509-M.

Benefit Is Delightful Affair

Entertaining for the benefit of the student loan fund, Orange county branch of the American Association of University Women was hostess at a lovely bridge party Saturday afternoon in the Peacock room of the Ebell clubhouse.

Bridge tables were covered with cloths in various pastel hues and centered with square pottery dishes, some holding single blossoms afloat on the water and others clusters of violets, the holders serving as table prizes later in the afternoon.

A dainty dessert course was served to 212 guests before the fashion and card games which made up the afternoon diversions, girls of the Moav and Las Gitanas service clubs of the junior college aiding in the serving.

During the dessert hour, a delightful fashion show was staged by the Work Basket and Rutherfords, girls of the same college clubs modeling knit suits and dresses from the former and hats from Rutherfords. Miss A. Rosman of New York was in charge of the show.

Smart Modes

One lovely suit was a two-piece white one with turban to match, and both trimmed in red, worn by a striking brunette model who chose a red purse to complete her outfit.

Another model wore a raw silk blouse suit in natural color, with a coronation blue skirt and white tailored hat.

Among the straw hats modeled was a lovely broad brimmed ballbuntl of dark blue, with white band. Turbans, however, predominated in the hat array.

The outfit which received the most admiration was a beautiful white coat, just knee length, knit of white cobble crepe wool over a two-piece green suit of an open work pattern. White sports hat, shoes and purse were the accessories.

As a background for the show, the stage was set with its two huge peacock blue jars filled with feathery acacia, and musical accompaniment was played by Miss Katherine Budd.

Attractive Tallies

When the tables were cleared for bridge, they found their chief decoration in the artistic tallies and score pads of orange and black, the work of Miss Roberta Nichols, a junior college student. Cards were donated by the Langley Oil company.

Besides the table prizes, there were a number of special awards which went to Mrs. Clarence Smith, Mrs. Genevieve Wollaston, Mrs. R. W. Weston, Mrs. Edward Walker, Mrs. Merrill Bauer, Mrs. Edna Ingham, Miss Lillian Dickson, Miss Llewellyn Allen, Miss Budd, Miss Ruth Crosby, Miss Edith Cook, Miss Damaris Beeman, Miss Linda Hunt, Miss Amber Andersgaard, Miss Mary Louise Wallace and Miss Constance Fox.

Committee on arrangements for the affair were Mrs. Ray Adkinson, Miss Mabel Whiting, Miss Ruth Frothingham, assisted by other members and by the college and high school girls.

TOM SAWYER TALE BACK ON KVOE

Serial Resumed at 7:15 After Interruption on Copyright

Tom Sawyer returns!

"Kids" from 7 to 70 will welcome the return of that immortal character of Mark Twain's, laughable, carefree, lovable Tom Sawyer whose four weeks on the air via KVOE and the Mutual-Don Lee broadcasting system established a remarkable record of popularity, winning a vast audience and surpassing in popularity many of radio's leading and established serials.

Carroll O'Meara's radio adaptation of Tom Sawyer proved to be such a hit with both children and adults that a flood of letters poured into stations of the network, requesting, even demanding, that the serial be resumed promptly.

The feature was suspended Feb. 2 until legal technicalities regarding copyrights were removed. Now, in response to public reaction, "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" will be heard on KVOE and other stations of the Mutual-Don Lee broadcasting system five nights a week, Mondays through Fridays, at 7:15, beginning tonight at that hour.

Modulations From KVOE

GETS IN THE HAIR

The strange but true story of the way certain African natives carry food, how and why it is done, will be disclosed in tonight's five-minute dramatization of "Iceities and Oddities" at 9:15.

FEDERAL FORUM

The viewpoints of John L. Lewis and William Green and what each hopes to accomplish with their respective programs of labor organization will be told in tomorrow morning's Orange county federal forum broadcast from KVOE at 11:15 by means of quotations by Lewis and Green.

SLEUTH SEEKS SALLY

When Cecil "bopped" the intruder on the head with a rolling pin, he made a capture but discovered his prisoner was Mr. Albertack, the detective. And when Albertack threatened to take Sally to jail, an amazing chain of "confessions" popped up. But Sally eluded capture and the sleuth will have to do some more sleuthing to find her. More developments with tonight's broadcast of "Cecil & Sally" at 8:30.

BETTER BUSINESS

Decidedly interesting and worthwhile are the Better Business bureau broadcasts from KVOE, denouncing and exposing various "rackets" and nefarious business methods which entrap an unsuspecting public. The next one will be made from KVOE tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock.

'Lone Ranger' in Peacemaker's Role

When homesteaders enter a new territory, they meet with the bitter opposition of cattlemen who have been using the water and land for years. The latter plan to wage a war that finds the masked rider in the role of peacemaker when the latest episode of "The Lone Ranger" is broadcast from KVOE and other stations of the Mutual-Don Lee Broadcasting system from 7:30 to 8 o'clock tonight.

Win Yourself Fame in a Story Contest

How did demure Eve Brown win a story contest? Eve knows if you want to write you can. Learn a trick or two, plunge in.

Think not of fussy plots but of an incident in your life—your good-bye to the man you didn't marry. Describe his quirks of character that made you say "No."

One successful writer wrote a short story about a refused proposal. She made the climax a visit to a dove-house, described the feelings of the girl when, eager for love, she saw how ludicrously her solemn suitor resembled the bowing birds.

Use vivid incidents to bring out the point of your story, but keep it real, make your reader feel it "might have been."

Our 32-page booklet by an editor-author tells many more ways to make stories clever, salable. Know the tricks of good writers, editors' "blacklist."

SONG VARIETY IN NEW FILM

The presence of "Minnie The Moocher" and the aria "Vissi Darte" from La Tosca on the same program might tax the credulity of any music lover who was not aware of the facts. But these two strange bedfellows are actually a part of Grace Moore's repertoire in "When You're in Love," currently screening at the Broadway theater.

The spirit of the picture is such that anything goes with eight other widely divergent songs being heard. Miss Moore contributes her famed voice to all but one of the eight.

Cary Grant, seen for the first time in a musical picture, plays opposite the diva with such performers as Aline MacMahon, Henry Stephenson, Thomas Mitchell, Catharine Doucet and Luis Alberni heading the distinguished list of supporting players.

"Hopalong Cassiday" turns secret service man in "Borderland," the supporting feature on the new program, with William Boyd again portraying the Western character. This story deals with a bandit whose depredations have aroused the Texas Rangers and Mexican secret police. He eludes both with equal abandon. In order to get him it becomes necessary for Boyd to play at being an outlaw. So well does he do the part that he even convinces his two best friends that he has "turned bad." Of course the hero rounds up the bad man. Jimmy Ellison, George Hayes, Charlene Wyatt and Nora Lane head the assisting cast.

GAMBLER LOSES IN KVOE TALE

The true story of Charlie Comstock provides one more proof in the thousands upon thousands that the gambler always loses.

Such is the story to be related by Captain Don Wilkie, authority on crime and former United States secret service ace, during his "In the Crimelight" broadcast from KVOE tonight at 8 o'clock.

Charlie was brilliant and well educated, but when pressed for money he turned crook. His scheme worked—for a while—and then the inevitable. Charlie became an outcast, a nobody, a bum, broken in health and in spirit.

'Drums' Players On Move Again

On the move again, William Farnum and his supporting cast in the mystery serial, "Drums," will be found leaving Kashmir, India, for Darjeeling when the current episode is broadcast by KVOE and other stations of the Mutual-Don Lee Broadcasting system at 6:45 tonight.

Good Posture Demands Exercise

By JACQUELINE HUNT

Daily bad habits or sitting, standing, walking or working can soon spoil the nicest figure. If you sit at your desk with your head thrust forward it will not take many months for you to develop a flat chest and rounded spine. It doesn't take much sitting or slouching to let the abdominal muscles get slack so the upper part of the body sags forward. Just let your stomach muscles relax and notice what happens.

Lit on the floor on a mat or quilt, your arms at your sides and your feet about 12 inches apart to start with. Pulling with the abdominal muscles, slowly rise to a sitting position. Lift your head, then your shoulders first.

The small of your back should be the last part to leave the floor. Now slowly lower yourself back to the starting position. Repeat several times, putting your feet a little further apart each time. You may find this exercise very difficult at first. If so, place your toes under the edge of a bed or heavy piece of furniture to help you until the muscles are stronger.

For the second exercise, you should lie face downward, your right knee brought forward under the chest, your arms stretched forward and relaxed. Begin to rise slowly upward. Pull in one the abdominal muscles and keep the head down. Continue to rise, letting the weight come on the forward knee. Stretch upward as tall as you can, lifting the left leg a little off the floor. Now drop forward again completely relaxed. Bring the left knee forward, stretching the right one backward and repeat the entire exercise. Repeat about half a dozen times to start with, increasing the number as your muscular control improves. This exercise is good for the entire body.

Scaloppine Is Good Italian Dish

By JUDITH WILSON

Scaloppine is made in different ways by our Italian neighbors, principally with chicken. But here is a delicious and easily fixed kind using the more inexpensive veal.

Veal Scaloppine

For 4 servings get 8 veal cutlets and have the butcher pound them until thin and tender. Dip them in flour and shake off the excess then brown the cutlets in hot butter. Meanwhile fry ½ pound large sliced mushrooms in butter, add to the cutlets, decrease the heat and cook together 8 minutes. Just before taking from the fire add salt and pepper to season, a lump of sweet butter and 2 jiggers of sherry or Marsala wine.

Special Typing Course Offered

Special typewriting work will be presented at the two Wednesday evening classes of the adult education department March 10 and 17, at 7 p. m., it was announced today by Helen Walden, instructor.

The classes meet in typing room 26 at Lathrop Evening High school, 1120 South Main street. Tabulation and centering of typewritten material will be featured the two evenings.

Typists who can arrange statistical or tabulated matter clearly, quickly and attractively have an advantage over those who cannot, the announcement said. Anyone interested was invited to take advantage of the explanation, demonstration and practice opportunity offered.

New eight-week spring typing classes in beginning, intermediate and advanced typing will begin during the weeks of March 29 and April 5. Regular classes in typing are held Monday and Wednesday nights at Lathrop and Tuesday and Thursday evenings at Willard.

TUSTIN HOME CENTER TUESDAY

"The Basic Dress" will be the project presented by Miss Frances Liles, county home demonstration agent, at the regular meeting of the home department of the Tustin Farm Center Tuesday at the home of Mrs. A. M. Robinson, 430 West Main street, Tustin.

A pot-luck luncheon at 12 o'clock and business session conducted by Mrs. Guy Christian, chairman, will precede the demonstration. Each woman attending is asked to provide a covered-dish and her own table service.

MINNESOTA GUEST DEPARTS

Mrs. Harriet H. Weeks left a few days ago for her home in Detroit Lakes, Minn., after spending the winter with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Moore, at 805 Lowell street.

Mrs. Weeks, who went home the northern route, with a stop in Berkeley to visit her cousin, Dr. Frank Bissell, is a former member of the Minnesota state assembly and a member of the women's peace conference in Washington, D. C.

CAR RECOVERED

Tony Palomino, Westminster, reported the theft of his car Saturday afternoon from Third and Birch streets. It was recovered a few hours later several blocks away.

Ptosis Cause Discussed In Article

By CLAUD CHRISMAN, M. D.

The condition of real falling stomach, or "ptosis," occurs in 20 to 30 per cent of all women and in less than 5 per cent of men. The cause is congenital, but it may be acquired and made worse by other influences.

Persons with long narrow chests and flat ribs, narrow hips and flat abdomens are the chief sufferers. This natural tendency is increased by persistent overloading of the stomach, over-ingestion of fluids, repeated pregnancies, any rapid loss of weight due to disease or other causes and the wearing of high tight corsets.

The accompanying discomfort is caused by the delayed emptying of the stomach, partly from the pull on the supporting muscles, and consequent narrowing of the pyloric opening, partly by the poor musclar development of the stomach and abdominal walls and the lack of fat inside and out.

The treatment consists of efforts to overcome the congenital defects. The tone and strength of the abdominal muscles must be proved. General nutrition needs to be built up with selected food to increase the abdominal and general body fat. Milk, cream and highly nutritious foods can be given in small quantities often.

Overloading the stomach with food and fluids should be avoided. Rest is advised after meals; in bed with the foot of the bed raised six to 12 inches so the stomach may not drag.

COURT DEFERS DECISIONS

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The supreme court today deferred until at least next Monday final decisions on constitutionality of the Wagner labor relations act and the Washington law establishing minimum wages for women.

It also postponed action on a petition for reconsideration of its 4 to 4 decision upholding constitutionality of the New York unemployment insurance act.

No opinions were read at today's session. If the decisions are not ready by next Monday they would be postponed until March 29. The court advanced no explanation why the opinions were not ready.

Humane Society Seeking Members

The Orange county humane society will launch a drive tomorrow for new members, coincident with a reorganization of the society, President Charles Ocain announced today.

A meeting of the society has been called for 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Neal sporting goods store. All lovers of animals, dog-breeders, or others interested in the work of the society are urged to attend.

Mrs. L. T. Clatt, New York, organizer of that city's outstanding animal shelter, will be at the meeting, Ocain said.

THE SOLDIER'S TOAST

Well lads, let's have another round of drinks,
And then another, and another then;
Let's drink to love and peace; whoever thinks
There is a better toast, must think again.

Yes, we've come home again from foreign lands;
Say, partner, hold my glass up to my lips;
Thank God a man can drink who has no hands,
To peace and love . . . from toes to finger tips!

LEGION OF YESTERDAY

We are the shadow-men of yesterday,
Caked in mud and lying in our graves;
Broken and torn and rotted well these years,
We, the unsung heroes and the knaves.
Step aside to let us limp our way,
Hear our voices tuned to bullets' whine,
Fling a silent jest across the years,
These are your echoes . . . the same heady wine
To call forth men and boys . . . to crush their lives
The same draught to turn your smiles to fears;
We are the shadow-men of yesterday
Who watch your wars . . . laugh . . . and catch your tears.
Somewhere there must be a song to sing
Far grander than that of bullets' sing . . .
Sometime there must come a day's release
When we shall find the door of peace.

Blind Join Sit-Down Fad

In an effort to gain higher wages, approximately 100 sightless employes of the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind's factory in Pittsburgh began a sit-down strike. Brooms, mops, rugs and other household commodities are made at the factory. Two of the strikers are shown after a dinner bell had sounded the strike call. (Associated Press Photo)

'Affair of Honor' Coed Shies From 'Any More Pictures'

DES MOINES, Iowa. (AP)—Heloise Martin, professional dancer and Drake university's "affair of honor" coed," shied today from "any more pictures," at the advice of university officials.

But that didn't keep the campus from searching everywhere for copies of a magazine (College Humor), which appeared Friday with a series of pictures showing Heloise getting up, taking a shower, dressing, attending a class, practicing with a bow and arrow, dancing, and, finally, kissing her boy friend good night.

The "boy friend" was Ernest Bergmann of Chicago, a university football-playing pugilist who recently trounced Dan Anderson of Salt Lake City, student editor, to protect Heloise's "honor."

Of the shower bath picture, Heloise hotly declared:

"It was retouched, and I don't like it a bit. They told me the picture would be used from the shoulders up only. I think every one should know that."

MEN ARE GOING GAY FOR EASTER PARADE

By ROGER D. GREENE

NEW YORK. (AP)—Shades of bewilderment settled darkly over New York's advance well-dressed men today.

In a wistful way, they wondered if it was not just a dream that came haunting around as an aftermath of lobster and crepes suzettes at midnight.

But it was only the prediction of delegates to the men's style show of the New York custom cutters' club of what the well-dressed man will wear—

". . . dinner jackets in robin's-egg blue . . . or pastel shades of plum, maroon, green, fawn, capri blue . . . with four-pleated cummerbunds in harmonizing colors, around the midriff, instead of vests . . . military-cut blue evening capes, a la vienna, with flaming scarlet lining . . . and tyrolean bonnets with a four-inch shaving brush on the side, clipped from the chin of a bearded mountain-goat . . ."

In brief, it is ordained, the male of the species is going gay.

"We have simply stopped making black tuxedos," announced Frank C. Nagel, official spokesman for the stylists. "They are out—pass-ay."

He shuddered slightly, emphasizing the pain that clutched him at memory of the "funereal-toned" tux.

"From now on, there will be nothing but midnight blue for winter wear. And when summer comes—"

All at once, summer seemed to come to Frank C. Nagel. He stopped shuddering. He warmed to his theme and beamed:

"Men are on the verge of escaping from the humdrum and the drab," he said. "Times are changing. Men want to feel cheerful again—and the way to feel cheerful is to wear something colorful.

"The colors must compliment the wearer and bring out the best features in his complexion. Florid-faced men, for example, should wear greens, browns, greys and blues. The blond should wear blues, greens and mixed greys. The black-haired sheik should wear light greys and browns, not too red, and blacks and whites.

"But color is the main thing—not garish, but bright. After all, it's time we gave the girls a treat, don't you think so?" He asked a circle of interviewers.

"It's Lent," one reporter said. "I gave up thinking for Lent." He seemed to have something, there.

SALT LAKE CITY GIRL WEDS JOSEPH WINDER

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Winder are honeymooning today in Palm Springs after a quiet home wedding early Saturday evening in the home of the bride's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Williams of Gregory Way, Beverly Hills.

The new Mrs. Winder was Miss Cleone Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Williams of Salt Lake City. She and Mr. Winder, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Winder, also of Salt Lake City, have been engaged to be married for some time.

Only members of the immediate family, and Mr. and Mrs. Q. L. Hardy, with whom he has made his home in Santa Ana, were present at the impressive rites performed by Bishop David Howells of the Mormon church. The bride was attired in a smart black ensemble, with tiny off-the-face hat and eyelash veil, and her sister, Mrs. A. B. Youre, who attended her, was also in black. Byron Williams acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a delicious wedding supper was served by Mr. and Mrs. Williams, after which the new Mr. and Mrs. Winder left for Palm Springs. They will return to Santa Ana in about a week to make their home at 1250 South Ross street. Mr. Winder is assistant manager of William Cavalier and Company of Santa Ana.

John E. Hearn, Texas state game warden in the Laredo area, has caught 90 Mexican lions in the past four years.

Fears Invasion Of Fishing Areas

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Senator Schwellenbach (D., Wash.) pictured in the senate today a "threatened invasion" of the North Pacific fishing grounds by Japanese, British and Norwegian ships.

"This problem contains potentialities which may more seriously threaten the peace of the United States than any other on the immediate horizon," he said.

Urging that executive action be taken toward an understanding, he added, however, that "our present extremely friendly relationship with the nations involved should assure us that we can and should avoid controversy."

Bride-to-Be Is Honored At Tea

Back in their high school days together here in Santa Ana, Miss Mary Blakeman served as "Big Sister" to Miss Eugenia Gilbert, "adopting" her as the seniors did the lower classmen and helping her make out programs and get acquainted in those first days in the new school.

On Saturday, the "little sister" returned some of those courtesies when she entertained for Miss Blakeman at a beautiful linen and crystal shower and tea in her home at 420 South Main street, assisted by her mother, Mrs. E. S. Gilbert, and by her sister, Miss Geraldine Gilbert of Pomona college.

The affair was the final of the courtesies before the wedding of Miss Blakeman and Lawrence Howard Hogue tonight at the Wee Kirk o' the Heather in Glendale.

Coming in the season of blossoms, the pale pink flowers from the peach tree were used throughout the home and were combined with feathery white alium as a centerpiece for the lovely tea table at which Mrs. Ernest Crozier Phillips, aunt of the bride-elect, and Mrs. William Hogue of Huntington Park, sister-in-law of Mr. Hogue, poured.

Lovely Tea Table

The flowers were arranged in a crystal bowl on a mirror encircled with single sprays of the pink blossoms, lighted white tapers in silver holders enhancing the pretty effect of the flowers and the silver service.

Ices were pink with wedding bells in the centers and little angelfood cakes were iced in white with a single pink blossom worked into the frosting of each.

Miss Blakeman, the honor guest, was in pale pink lace, and her mother was in a blue printed chiffon. Miss Gilbert, the hostess, wore a peach blossom tone lace, to receive her guests, and was assisted by her mother, in black crepe with metal trim.

Mrs. Phillips, who poured tea, was in black chiffon with metal cloth. She was assisted by Miss Eleanor Crookshank, in pink crepe, and Miss Geraldine Gilbert, in pale green taffeta, assisted Mrs. Hogue with the ices at the other end of the table, Mrs. Hogue wearing pink satin.

Invited Guests

Out-of-town guests invited to the party showered Miss Blakeman with linen gifts, and the Santa Ana friends brought crystal in her chosen Fernwood pattern, making up a set of a dozen sherbet glasses, a dozen plates, and a dozen goblets.

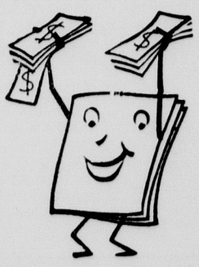

Guests invited from other towns, most of them former Pomona college friends of the bride-elect, were the Mesdames Gene Imback, James Henderson, Paul Dougan, Harold Fish, John Ferte, Clyde Spears, Hyrum Strong, and Graham Orr, William Hogue, Ernest Strathman, Jack Shackleford, and A. Coates, and the Misses Ruth LaFrance, Loretta Wilkinson, Mary Bigelow, and Ellen Bauers.

Santa Anans invited to honor Miss Blakeman were her mother, Mrs. Beulah Blakeman, the Mesdames Katherine Handley, Josephine Hearle, Alice Cox, A. Erickson, A. Stearns, Albert Payne, Fred Ferry, Ernest Crozier Phillips, Merritt White, Thelma Morehouse, A. Newcomb, and the Misses Ruth Campbell, Katheryn Anderson, Nell Crawford, Dorris Tittle, Anna Ruth Ellis, Marian Bruner, Mary Porter, Eleanor Crookshank, Thelma Johnson, Billie Belle, Ruth Stoner, Katherine Walbridge, Marjorie Ann Mathes, Dorothy Dauser, Hannah Peterson, Larry Franz, Helen Smith, and Helen Mulholland.

Neighbors Pick on Unwary Bachelor

Pity the poor, unsuspecting bachelor, Dave Sommerville, about whom the story of Jimmie Bennett Downie's "These, Our Neighbors" is centered these days.

The various candidates to marry him are revealed in the next episode, on KVOE tomorrow afternoon at 3:30.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK. (AP)—Despite heavy buying in mining issues in the stock market today, following a boost in the domestic copper price of 1¼ cents a pound to 16½ cents, the best level since 1930, late general selling unsettled the list. Previously rail, utility, oil and specialty leaders achieved popularity, many reaching new highs for the recovery move. Major steels, motors and an assortment of other recent top-notchers struggled unsuccessfully to overcome profit-selling and declines were plentiful at the close. Prices follow:

Streamlined Government

SOME heavy days are ahead for serious thinkers in Supervisor N. E. West's new plan to reorganize the county government into a new charter setup with a county manager bossing everything from school teachers to garbage collectors.

A lot of advantages are claimed by Mr. West for his plan—not the least of which are a one-third cut in taxes and the elimination of hangover methods which have resulted in this county having more than 100 overlapping tax levying bodies, many of them doing practically the same work.

If Mr. West's plan will really streamline county government that way, he'll soon have all the taxpayers riding on the bandwagon.

The other side hasn't been heard from yet, however, and probably it'll have plenty to reply. Especially officials and politicians whose jobs might be endangered by a change.

Everybody is entitled to a fair hearing, however. That system works pretty well in the law courts and it should work in a discussion of the proposed revision of the county government.

So don't make up your mind about Mr. West's charter plan until you've heard both sides thoroughly explained. Snap judgment is seldom worth a cuss.

Long Beach tango parlors are open again, paying off in games instead of cash. But you can't buy groceries with a pocketful of tango tickets.

Always Too Busy?

THIS editorial is exclusively for those who don't think they have enough time to do what they want to do. Our text, taken from Arnold Bennet's "How To Live," follows:

"Which of us is not saying to himself—which of us has not been saying to himself all his life, 'I shall alter that when I have time'? Which of us lives on 24 hours a day? And when I say 'lives' I do not mean exists, nor 'muddles through.' Which of us is free from that uneasy feeling that the 'great spending departments' of his daily life are not managed as they ought to be?

"We shall never have any more time. We have had and always will have all the time there is."

There's truth in those words. Everyone gets 24 hours of time a day—no more, no less. It's the raw material of life. And if you conserve it and use it properly, it will furnish you a good living and lots of fun, too.

We were proud of our editorial about Hitler until we read of this one in 11-year-old Buster Hoefer's Sheboygan Weekly—"Hitler is a cheese."

That Court Plan Again

ANOTHER well-placed kick for President Roosevelt's supreme court packing plan comes from yesterday's radio round table of the University of Chicago—a coast-to-coast hookup.

The three faculty speakers pointed out that Roosevelt wants to pack the court in order to put through some more New Deal price fixing laws and producion curtailing laws.

Regarding this kind of legislation they say: Price fixing establishes monopolies and increases the cost of living for the average man; while crop and factory restriction reduces the amount of commodities actually available for the people.

There's more truth than theory in what the professors say.

And to think this nation is being asked to pack the court for that!

Some old meanie is whispering around that several of Roosevelt's cabinet members were past 70 when he appointed them.

Odds Are Against Them

THOSE fellows who have been predicting that Orange county would be overrun by professional gamblers the minute Santa Anita track closed may have to take their places at the foot of the class.

Sheriff Logan Jackson is the reason for that statement. And the sheriff will be remembered as the man who rang curfew in this fair county for punchboards, marble machines and turf agencies. We quote him:

"Professional gamblers never sleep. They are always looking for a way to attack the law and those who enforce the law. But I am ready for them."

Smart gamblers don't bet when the odds are too heavy against them. With Jackson standing by to do his duty, they aren't likely to take the chance of coming here.

Mrs. Roosevelt carries a gun and says she can use it. Her husband carries a club and congress knows darn well he can use it.

Public Rats No. 1

ABOUT the worst type of human rats are those sexual degenerates and bullies who commit criminal assault on defenseless women and girls.

Newspapers are full of this crime these days. A young girl was attacked by three men in Santa Ana canyon, she tells authorities, and the men are jailed pending trial. Here's hoping they get the limit if they are guilty.

Criminal assault is the vilest of the vile. Committed only by cowards and beasts, it is a filthy and poisonous menace to all decent and honorable women.

A chain-letter 50 years old is reported in Costa Mesa. A chain letter is as weak as its weakest think.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

O. O. McIntyre

Diary: Up and reading Will White's tribute to Brock Pemberton's mother in the Emporia Gazette, as touching almost as the one to his daughter Mary. And Ray Long came by in long trousers, almost grown, wincing me with awareness of the rushing years.

So for a snack with Harry Burton and at my mail. Finding a bid to Fanny Holtzmann's tea to Lady Grosvenor, a suggestion from Mervyn LeRoy to write a cinema about New York for him, and an engaging letter from Frank, of the Paris Ritz, about the changes that come to old rue Cambon.

At dusk with my dog to the park, who grows hysterical yipping at the stately swans in the lake. And for palaver with Henry Sell, then dinner with my wife and to hear Joe Smith fiddle at Montparnasse. And later to sit with Albert Keller and see the floor show in the Ritz Crystal room.

France is trying to introduce its famous aperitif, byrrh, to drinkees in America. It has long been a favorite cocktail of the established French resident but created little furore among Yank tourists. Those red signs containing the single word "Byrrh" are probably the most profuse of all Gallic advertisements next to Chocolat Meunier. The liquor has a slightly acrid quinine taste and zings a do-si-do. The family that sponsors it is third richest in France.

France, too, is trying to restore absinthe to its countrymen. A move to repeal the ukase of 1915 and bring back that glowy late afternoon period known as "l'heure sainte de l'absinthe." The drink was abolished because it was believed growing use had lowered the birth rate. Today the birth rate continues to decline without absinthe. It was the favorite drink of Left Bank artists and poets. Oscar Wilde is supposed to have fallen under its spell. Verlaine, of course, wrote some of his best stuff atingle with its wallop. But he was a tough old bird.

* * *

In the days of absinthe in New York, the most celebrated cache for the absinthe drip was the mellow old Brevoort on lower Fifth avenue. The receipt was from the Absinthe House in New Orleans. There are no records of any pronounced addiction among the notable literary sippers of that day. Marie Corelli's "wormwood," a tragedy of absinthe, did much to legalize it out of the bars.

I heard today of a most unusual phobia. Fortunately the victim is a man of means. He will wear nothing after it has been laundered. Otherwise, he is perfectly normal and has been so successful he retired before 50. His shirts, underwear, hose and pajamas, after a first wearing, are sent to a charity. He has no especial fear of germs but simply cannot stand to wear anything that has been washed and ironed. He must have it brand new. Tough tootsie: The feet of the hill women in the Ozarks after years of hopping rocks without shoes naturally become calloused. Charlie Edison recalls that venerable one of the gnarled old woman, barefoot, standing close to the fireplace. The old man nearby nodding. Finally he said: "Maw, you all is standing on a live coal." Without ever turning her head, the old lady inquired: "Which foot, paw?"

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—The President's "fireside chat" tomorrow night is something you don't want to miss.

He is going to "shoot the works" on the supreme court. Not only is he going to take off the gloves, but his speech will mark a significant change in administration tactics on this all-important issue.

In his sensational message to congress, the President's chief argument in justification for his proposal to "pack" the courts was the advanced age of many judges and the overcrowded condition of court calendars. As an illustration, he cited the large number of writs of certiorari (requests that cases be considered) denied by the supreme court.

This line of attack was sold the President by Attorney General Cummings. But recently other White House advisers have convinced Roosevelt that Cumming's strategy was weak and unsound.

Stressing the age of judges, they told the President, played into the hands of the opposition by enabling them to concentrate their fire on the relatively unimportant charge of judicial inefficiency.

The astute thing to do, they counseled, was to make a straightforward challenge of the court's axing of liberal legislation, particularly labor and social welfare measures. This form of attack, they argued, put the opposition at a disadvantage by forcing it to defend the unpopular rulings of the judges.

The advice sounded good to Roosevelt. He junked Cumming's strategy and in his speech Tuesday night will tackle the issue from the more direct approach. He will hit straight at the court's scuttling of liberal social and economic legislation and will cite specific decisions to illustrate his charges.

GRAND OLD MAN

Nearly 40 years ago, Speaker Tom Reed brought down from Maine a new shorthand reporter for the house of representatives. Introducing him with a wry smile, Reed said, "This is Ruel Small. He's a good shorthand reporter, but he's getting on in years."

That was in 1898, and Small was 50 years old. He began taking notes of debate in the house, kept it up for nearly 40 years, and died in harness last week. He would have been 90 in September.

There is no parliamentary body in the world where note-taking is more difficult. Time limits placed upon members cause a highly accelerated delivery, ranging as high as 200 or 225 words a minute.

But Small took his "trick" up to the very end. Eighty-nine years old, he stood in the well of the house, moving about to follow the quickly shifting debate, his pencil going like lightning.

He had a dry Yankee wit, and when a member was "going to town" with a purple passage of oratory, Small would remark aside to the clerk at the desk, "Immaterial, if true."

One of his favorite stories was of a shorthand novice who failed to give satisfaction because his transcript of the phrase "evangelical seminary" read "vegetable maneuver." In Pitman shorthand, as abbreviated for high speed, the symbols for the two phrases come out much alike.

MAIL BAG

B. K. N., New York City—It is easy to see the supreme court in action if you choose the right time. Avoid decision day. Decisions are handed down on Mondays, and great crowds come then, many people supposing that the court does not sit on other days. Admission is easy on any day from Tuesday to Friday, inclusive, especially in the latter part of the afternoon. No card of admission is required . . . L. R. M., Topeka, Kans.—Many historians believe that the disastrous Dred Scott decision, which brought on the Civil war, might have been avoided had it not been for politics within the supreme court.

Originally, Chief Justice Taney planned to avoid the question of extending slavery into the new territories. In fact, Justice Samuel Nelson, a New York Democrat who supported slavery, prepared an opinion treating the Dred Scott case as a purely local question—that is, whether the negro Scott specifically was free or still slave in Missouri after residing in the free territory of Minnesota.

However, other members of the court learned that Justice John McLean of Ohio, a Republican and a staunch opponent of slavery, planned to write a strong dissenting opinion which would win him Abolitionist support in his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination. Five of the justices were southerners.

Therefore the court, partly to head off McLean, partly because of the pressure of a powerful pro-slave lobby of southern planters, decided to embrace the entire question of slavery in the western territories, which had been divided into free and slave areas by the congressional Missouri compromise law of 35 years before.

However, the case was argued during a presidential election year, and the predominantly Democratic supreme court decided to withhold announcement of its decision until after the inauguration of President Buchanan, a Democrat, even though this meant a delay of almost five months.

In his inauguration speech, Buchanan announced that he would accept the supreme court decision, "whatever this may be." Two days later the court announced, 7-2, in favor of Buchanan's party. It declared the Missouri compromise unconstitutoinal and opened the entire West, north as well as south, to slavery.

After Buchanan died there was found in his papers a letter from Justice Grier, who like Buchanan was a Pennsylvanian, informing him on Feb. 23, nine days before inauguration, that the supreme court's decision was to favor the Democrats.

The tempest in a teapot caused by the recently issued order of the Southern Counties Gas company's proposing the raise in the minimum to be charged for gas and for imposing a penalty of 15 per cent on delinquent customers is in a fair way of calming down, as it is understood the gas people "didn't know it was loaded," and have announced their intention not to attempt to enforce the orders.

What Other Editors Say

SPEAKING OF TAXES
(Riverside Enterprise)

During hard times taxpayers stand up and howl to high heavens about the tax load and their inability to stand the crushing tax burden.

They listen to speakers on taxation, join taxpayers' organizations, and in general make themselves heard.

As soon as good times arrive, all is forgotten and forgiven. Taxes are paid without a murmur. At the taxpayer's request, new governmental functions are added and costs roll merrily upward until the next depression.

A peculiar thing about the tax situation is that analyses of governmental costs and functions, which should logically precede any reduction or increase, is rarely undertaken.

At a recent meeting of the California Taxpayers association Mayor Mayor Fred Rowland of Santa Ana declared:

"In cities where government costs are running high, an analysis of all functions should be made and these functions should be classified as essential, semi-governmental or non-governmental.

"We found in Santa Ana that non-governmental functions represented about 10 per cent of the entire operating budget. Since these functions have been eliminated or curtailed, city affairs are still running smoothly and more economically."

In most taxpayers groups we find keen business men who, if it were their own business they were considering, would study the most intimate details in order to obtain sufficient operation.

In the taxpayers group, however, they seem at a loss where to start, afraid of offending some public official who as a matter of fact is just as interested as they are in cutting useless expense, incapable of thinking in a business-like manner.

The time to organize a taxpayers' group is during good times.

The Paris (France) police department is being equipped with two-way radio sets for its patrol cars and vans. The short wave set makes it possible to receive and transmit messages between the central police station and the cruising patrols throughout the city. The system is very similar to the two-way radio sets being installed by the New York City fire department.

One Man's Opinion

By X-REPORTER

FROM THE DARKNESS

A man with a white walking-stick and a paper shopping bag filled with groceries came out of a store just in front of me. He started tap-dancing his way down the sidewalk in the direction I was going.

"May I walk with you?" I asked him.

"Sure you may," he said, in a hearty, happy-sounding voice. let me take hold of your arm and I can put this stick away."

He was light on his feet, and seemed to know instinctively when we were coming to a crossing.

He warned me once that we were coming to an especially bad crossing where two streets met obliquely.

"Auto drivers expect blind folks to be able to get out of their way," he said. "They don't see the white walking sticks very plainly, I guess."

"Folks generally are pretty kind to blind people," he volunteered. "I go all over the city. I don't suppose there's a street or a store in the downtown district that I haven't been on or in. I can tell by listening to the footsteps of others and by following their voices. There's always somebody waiting to help me across a street intersection, it seems."

My companion volunteered the information that he had been totally blind for three years.

"It was pretty bad knowing that I was going blind," he said. "I thought at first I couldn't bear it. But later I found that life was still pretty sweet, even in total darkness."

He told me when to turn a corner by a street car barn. "There's quite a hole there, isn't there?" he inquired. There was. Street cars and busses ran down into a deep pit to spend the night.

"I knew another fellow who was losing his sight about the time I was," he confided. "He used to talk about jumping off the bridge. 'Not for me,' I told him. I was getting used to the darkness by that time, and since then I've learned to enjoy life all over again.

"Years ago every blind person used to be just a blind beggar. The attitude of the public has changed all that. Folks are pretty kind to blind people now. They pension the needy blind and everybody tries to help them along their way. It isn't so bad for blind people—now."

In referring to my friend Martin Murray's weather predictions for the 1936-7 season, I notice he has one scheduled for the 19th of this month, while April will be more than usually unsettled, I assume on the old theory that April showers are needed for the May flowers. He figures that on the 2nd, 15th and 29th storms will arrive. If you followed Murray's forecasts during the winter season he proved to be a rather accurate prophet. I've tried to cooperate with Murray from the publicity department, leaving all of the meteorological data to him. I was afraid I might mess it up if I ventured any weather predictions. But it is worth while to note that we do have a man in Orange county who does give serious thought and devotes a lot of time to find out what kind of weather we are to have during the winter seasons.

"Sully" Sullivan, Ivie Stein and Hunter Leach, of "The Gay Nineties" cast, paid me an official call last Thursday, but I didn't pay them, for the reason that I was not in the cashier's office at the time they made their visit. This triumvirate was doing a little advertising for the show, and they thought if they could find me they could do a "little" more, which was a reasonable conclusion. If on future occasions the boys will notify me of their proposed visit, giving the date and hour, I'll try and miss 'em as I did last Thursday.

Read a story the other day about a man who owned 3,000,000 acres of land. He died. Now he owns the same amount of land that you and I will own one of these days, and unless they move the cemetery we will continue to own it until Grabriel sounds the horn, which makes me wonder if Gabriel has an automobile. Earth to earth, dust to dust, and the rich and poor are equalized by the hand of God who will make the final inventory, and decide whether land or love is the most valuable possession.

Nero and Julius Caeser may have had something to do with the month of April, but it remained for the state legislature to put it definitely on the calender map. The last half of taxes must be paid the 20th. I wouldn't take the position that this is good news, but how are you going to get away from it? In Nero's time the month was called Neroneus, and Caesar added its thirtieth day. In Santa Ana it's John Lamb's month. P. S: Leave remittances at the tax collector's office.

When an electric sign is too long and a freight truck is too high and they get together, something happens to the electric sign. It's this: When the truck moves away the sign stays, but it doesn't look the same or function normally. Roland Kloess has been convinced that the sign gets the worst of it, after getting a confirmation from City Engineer McBride, who assisted in the inspection. Roland believes that trucks have certain highway privileges, but he wishes they would exercise them nearer the center of the street.

Our troubles often dissolve with the sunlight, or disappear with comparisons. Met an orange grower this morning who was blue as indigo during the freezing weather, but now thinks conditions are not as serious as they appeared when the bad weather was in action. Heard of a little lad who was developing symptoms which proved fatal to his father. Another case where a friend reported an acquaintance passing through a series of operations, husband claimed by the Grim Reaper, and finances depleted. I get so many of those kind of stories that I do not either have the time or the inclination to turn in my own troubles. If you are in reasonably good health, thank God for it, and keep busy.
